Dear Ginny,

It's been wonderful and I just wish it could last longer (without exams) of course!
Take care of yourself, god love her!

Karin

8434 Maple Avenue
Gary, Indiana

Dear Joanne
(Please forward!)

Have a fine time at the Park Board -
It's really been great at Walnut with you gals. Although you'll be in the House, I hope
I'll see you around next year.

Dot

Adams

Ginny:

Can't quite express the joy and fun we've had knowing you!
I'm looking forward to next year + you know what!
Keep that "wire-recorder" in good shape until next year!

At least we were ruined together! All I can say is that it's been great Ginny.
Thanks for all the fun
we've had together.

Stay close this summer

-Bos who-

839 Vandenberg St.
Gary, Ind.

Dear Ginny:
"Well, God love her!"
It's so sweet. It's been a lot of fun &
I'll visit you next fall when you're a big red in the W. J. House. Until then be good, be nice, be kind have fun. Love, Karin

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Bloomington, Indiana

1948-1949

Ichabod Indiana better known as Icky I. U. entered
Indiana University

Prexy came home

1200 stupids enrolled in PAB

The Commons got its face lifted

Coach Clyde Smith stepped in to lead the Fighting Hoosiers

Dr. Mueller caused a furor by his resignation from the Russian Academy of Sciences

The Revlon Roughnecks finally won a Powder Bowl game

Indac organized the independents

The Senate took over the political spotlight

Betty Wray Adams was chosen Arbutus Beauty Queen

The rain continued

THE YEAR THAT...

The activities limitations bill taught senators that rods die hard

Rush was . . .

Individual phones confused the dating situation

The University received the Goethe Link Observatory

Combat jackets became the exception instead of the rule

A record-breaking 2300 seniors made it

Broadway hit Bloomington

Riley Hospital celebrated its 25th anniversary

The Kappa Sigs won the pin ball tournament.

In the midst of these world-shaking events, Ichabod's advent went unnoticed. Nevertheless he's been watching all year in class, at home, and when we party party party, for this creep was created to lead you through . . . the 1949 Arbutus.

DEDICATION

We dedicate this book to Keith Green who was to have been this year's ARBUTUS editor. On June 18, 1948, he died of cancer. We feel that Keith would have wanted to write his own dedication, therefore we print some excerpts from his article, The Short Road Back, written shortly after his first operation when he lost an arm.

"... Momentarily I felt that my life was ruined. I was quite wrong. Others may feel the way I did. Perhaps I can help them to change their viewpoint. That's why I am writing this . . . my life, as I had known it, seemed ruined. You lose a limb and your life is automatically ruined, just as if the limb contained your brains, your liquor cabinet, and your best girl. You sit around and brood, you get bitter, and your family spends the rest of your days in trying to make you as un-psychopathic as possible . . . I could stand firm and build a little each day, or I could shatter, and spend the rest of my life picking up far-flung pieces . . . I explained that here was a situation to be faced, not avoided . . . and I determined to take the short road back."

CAMPUS LIFE

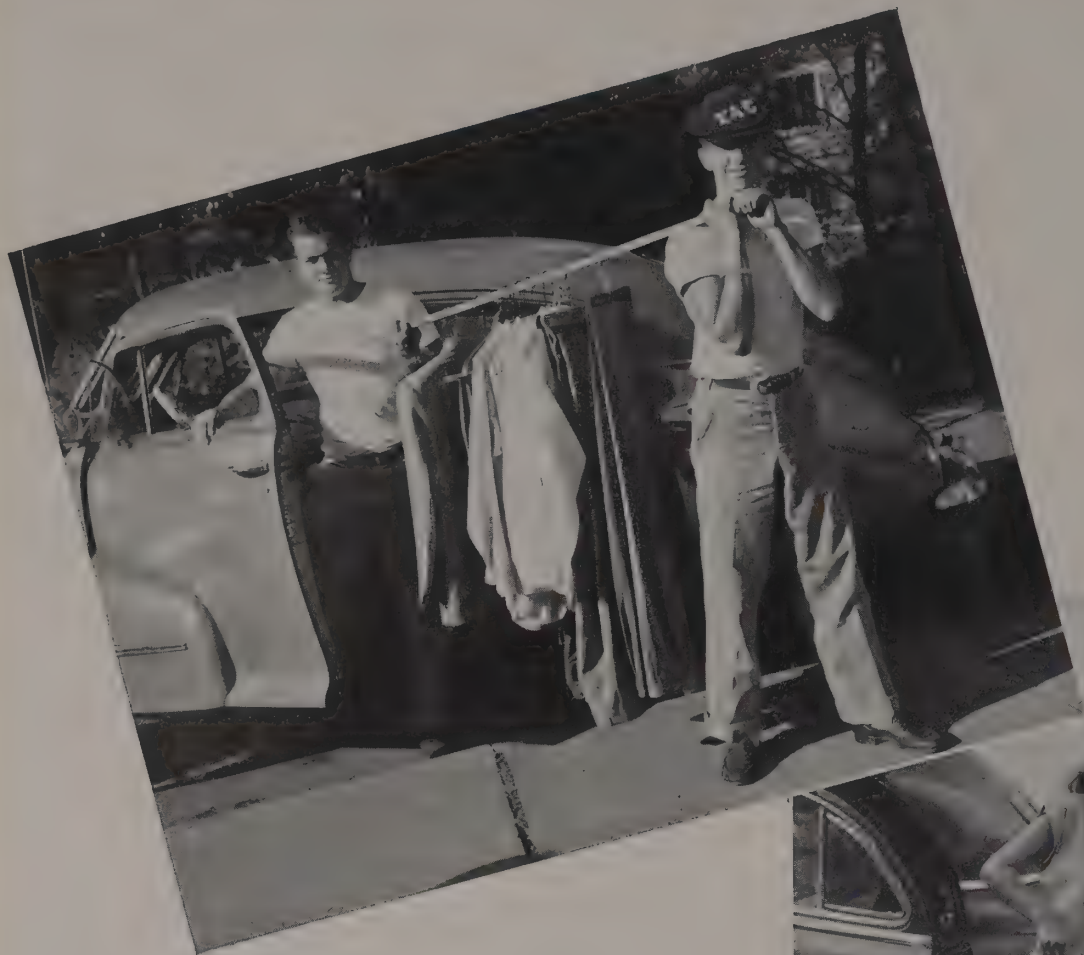

Fall drags into Bloomington with a trunk full of new clothes à la Harper's Bazaar. The students wipe the mud from between the crevices of their brains and walk on three inch heels. They push their way through political cigar smoke, dance to the jangle of rod chains, and wear out their trouser seats on football bleachers. They plunge into the icy pool of social life without a shudder. It is the beginning of another year of rubbing elbows with sophistication. It is fall.

Entering the social fountain.

The FIRST day, they're smiling.

... and then three flights up and turn to your left.

What if they don't fit under the bed?

Sophistication, my eye! All I'm getting are scrub woman's knees!

7:30's for you, young man.

The first year, they always buy one.

Buy 'em, sell 'em, forget 'em!

Patience is the greatest lesson.

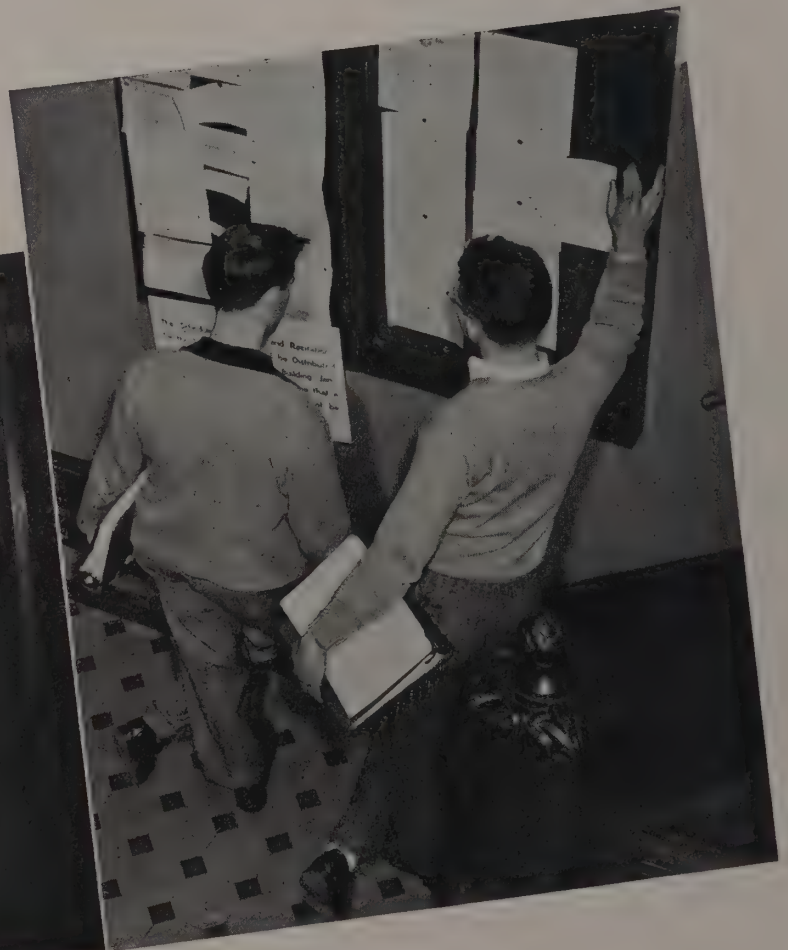

*Classes begin,
but the rain continues*

This is just dew; wait until January.

And that isn't the only place I got calluses.

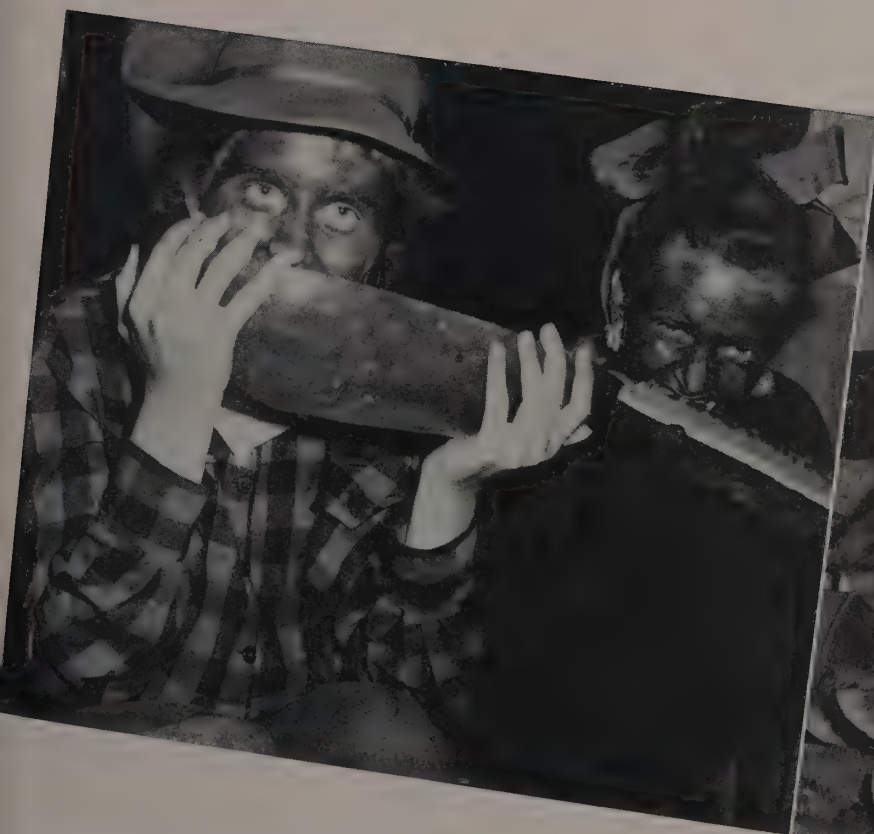

They moved that class to Bedford.

The first three tasted better.

"We never lose our supremacy."

Sigma Chi watermelon mess

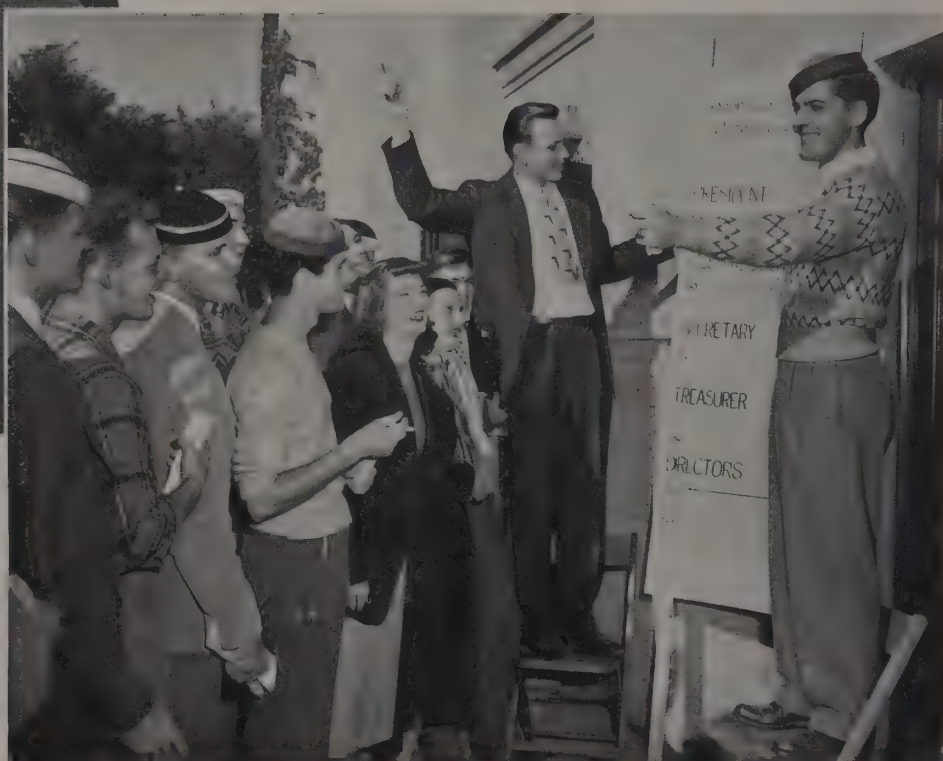

Come on, Gertie, they aren't fattening.

At the first election they gave us a choice

The clean and uncomplicated part of Democracy

A lesson in diplomacy, girls: keep smiling.

Post no bills!

Homecoming — but who got the hot foot?

He's growing — learning the chances of life.

The dough fell.

It DID rain!

And Dee Schumm won!

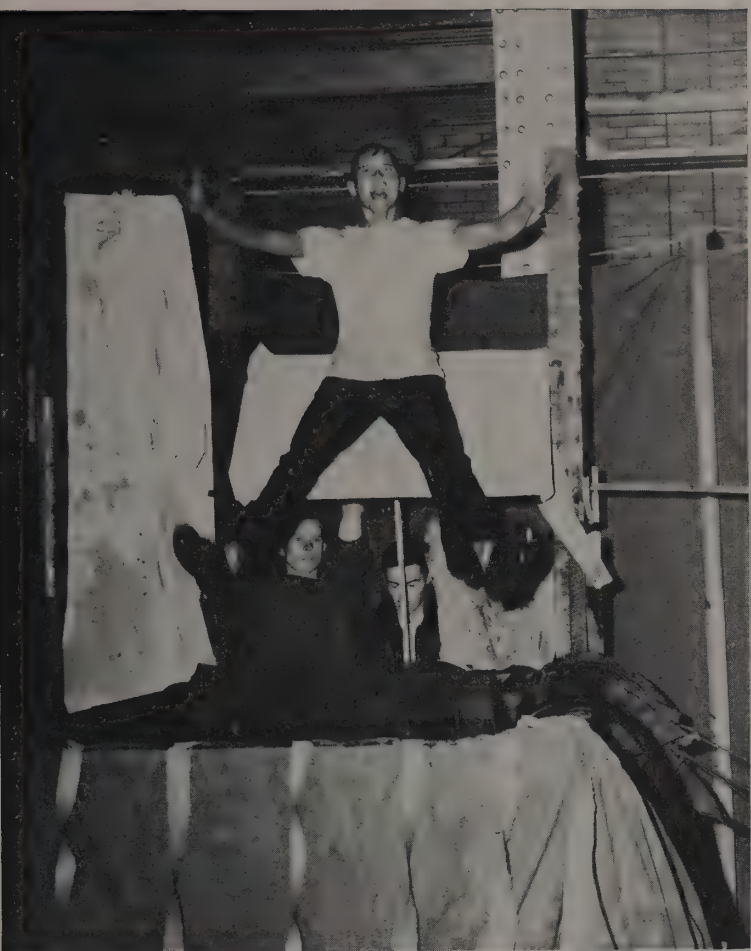

The little girl is growing up.

Game time: 2:30

He sits in the same stadium we do!

I. U. Carnival — Hallelujah!

Who tied your tie, Colonel?

Want to borrow my razor, cutie?

And I'm telling you, the next time I lean over . . .

Brrr!

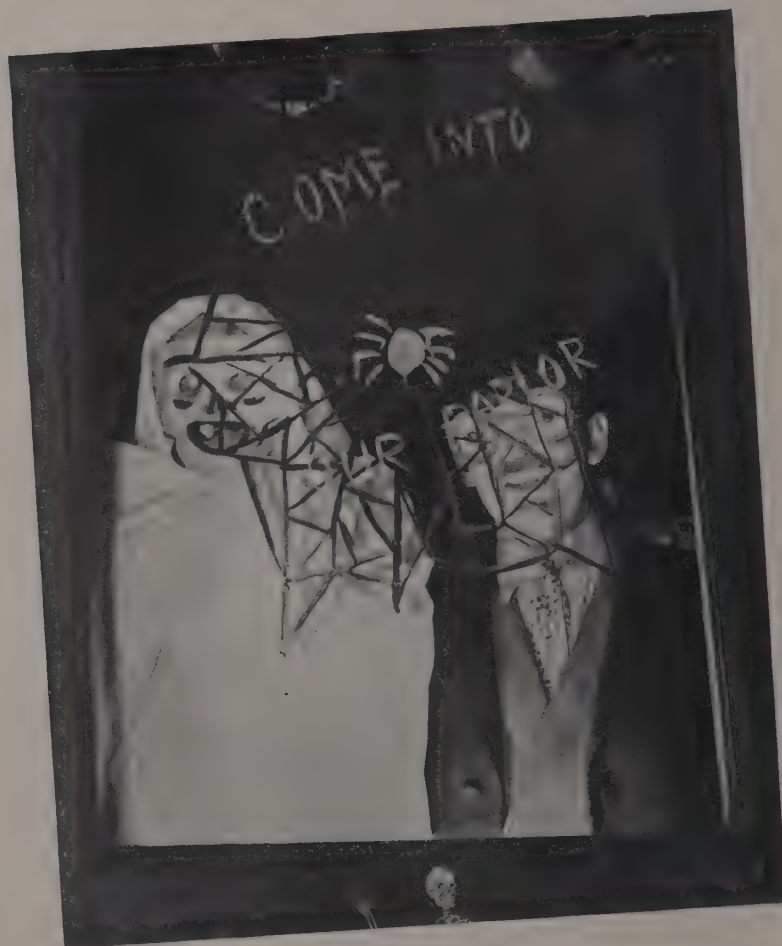

Keith, you're standing in a hole.

The carnival shows you everything . . .

. . . but everything!

They won't need their masks in the morning.

And, daddy dear, the campus is oozing with culture . . .

. . . and culture . . .

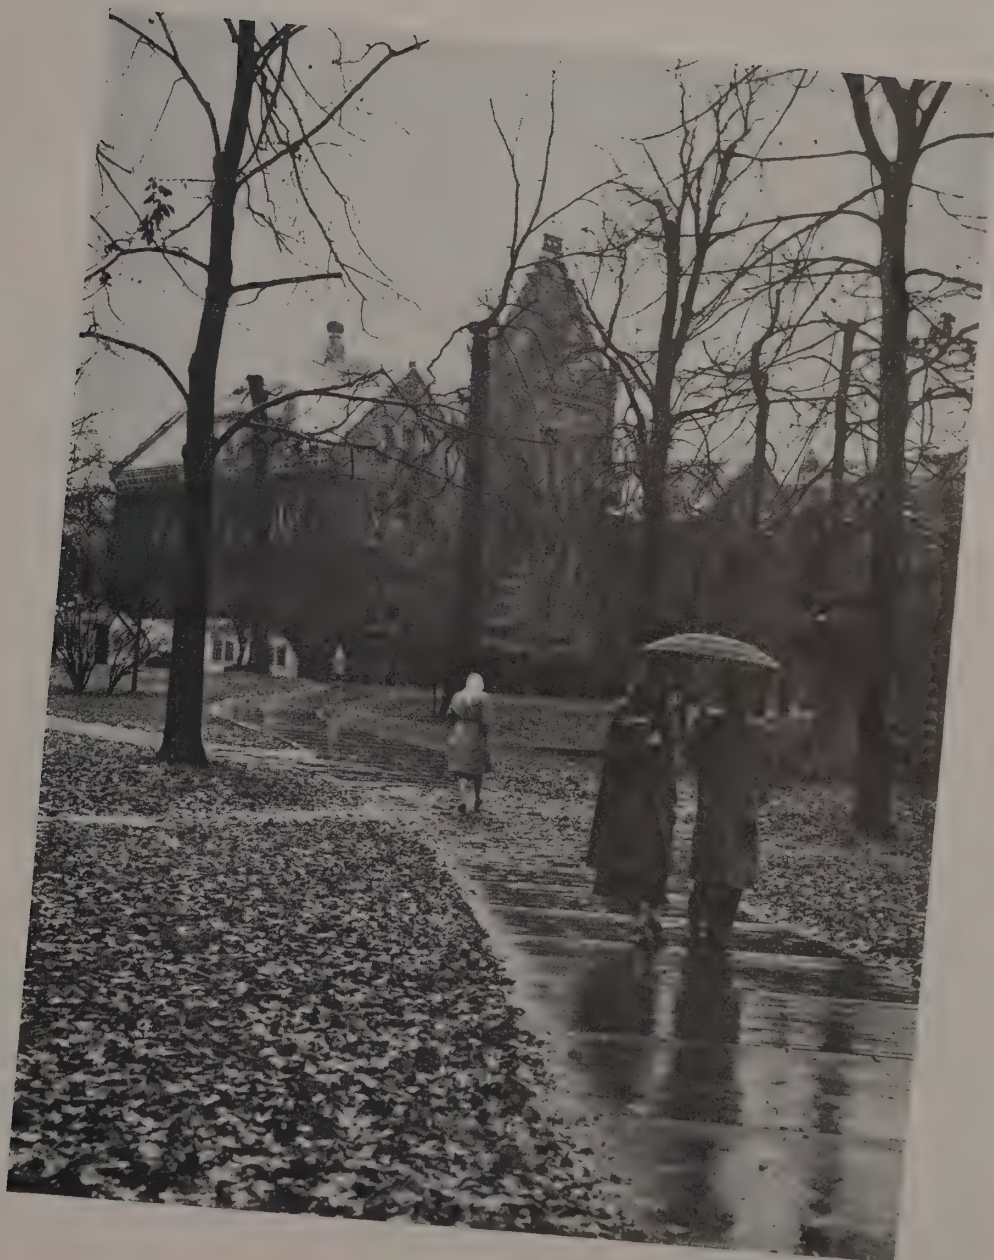

. . . and more culture.

They're smiling, but wait till the bills for culture come in!

The winter of Bloomington shakes its head, flooding the Jordan. The students wipe their faces and wear yellow rain coats, letting their ice skates rust in the closet. It is the season of the female. She becomes the aggressor, swelling her muscles for Sadie Hawkins Day and the Powder Bowl Game. The male, driven into the library stacks, turns to intellectual pursuits and thoughts of Siberia.

He still carries the umbrella.

Sadie Hawkins Day — the subtle way . . .

. . . but she uses brute force!

Just like a girdle with a two-way stretch

Sophistication — Dogpatch style

... and formaldehyde pervaded the air.

But who got the last quack?

He's dead but he didn't lie down.

A prayer for Jawn Purdue

Five beautiful numbers . . .

. . . add up to the Sophomore Queen.

Pursuit of culture — Progression . . .

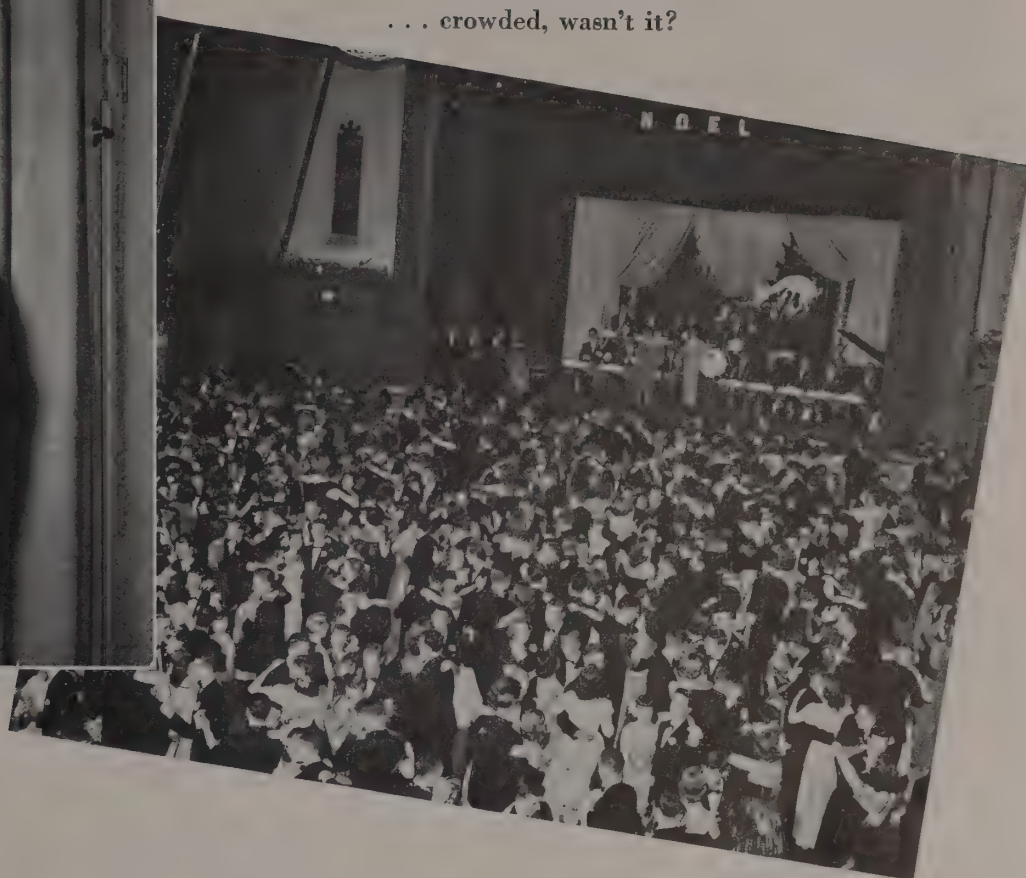

. . . and Traditionalism.

Picture of perfection until . . .

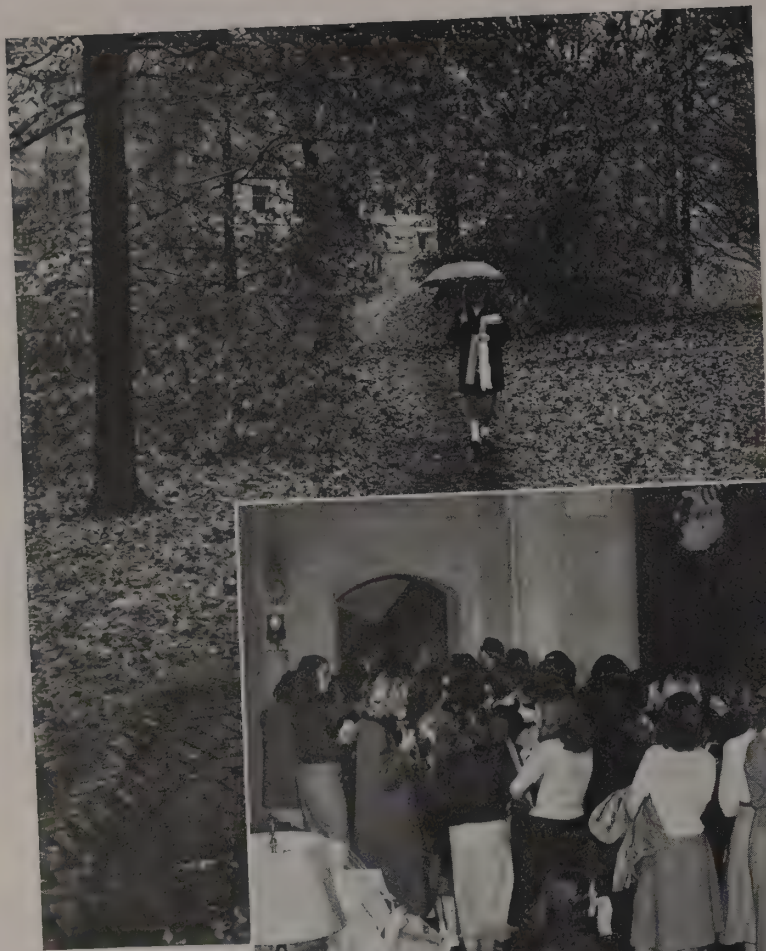

. . . crowded, wasn't it?

She takes so long yet wears so little.

And here's the poor guy whose date caught a cold.

Does it ever stop?

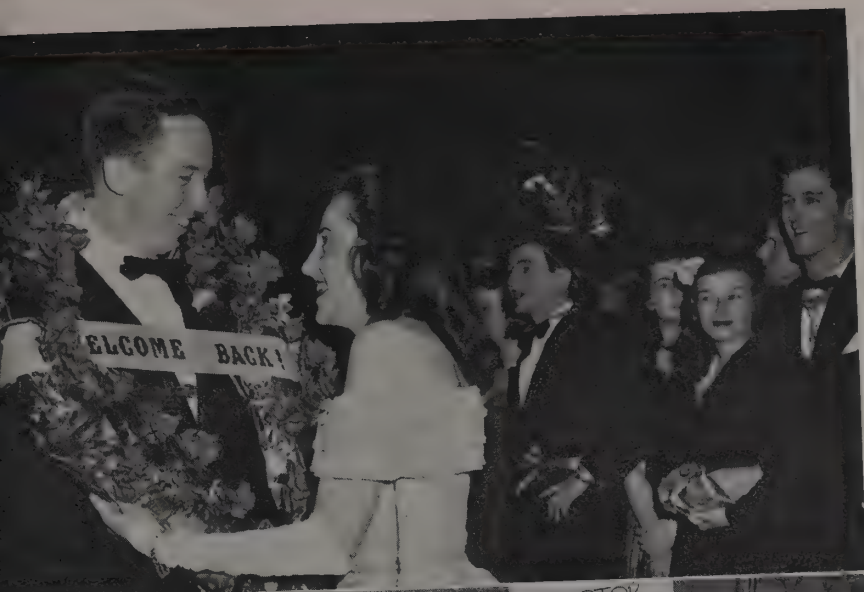

They should have brought their lunch.

What man's worth it?

Chest 44, waist 30, eyelashes 5 inches

It's been a long, long time.

And he laughed at my hats

Coronation Procession

Kings are made, not born!

Christmas — Bloomington version

Who did this snow job?

Santa Hermie and his helpers

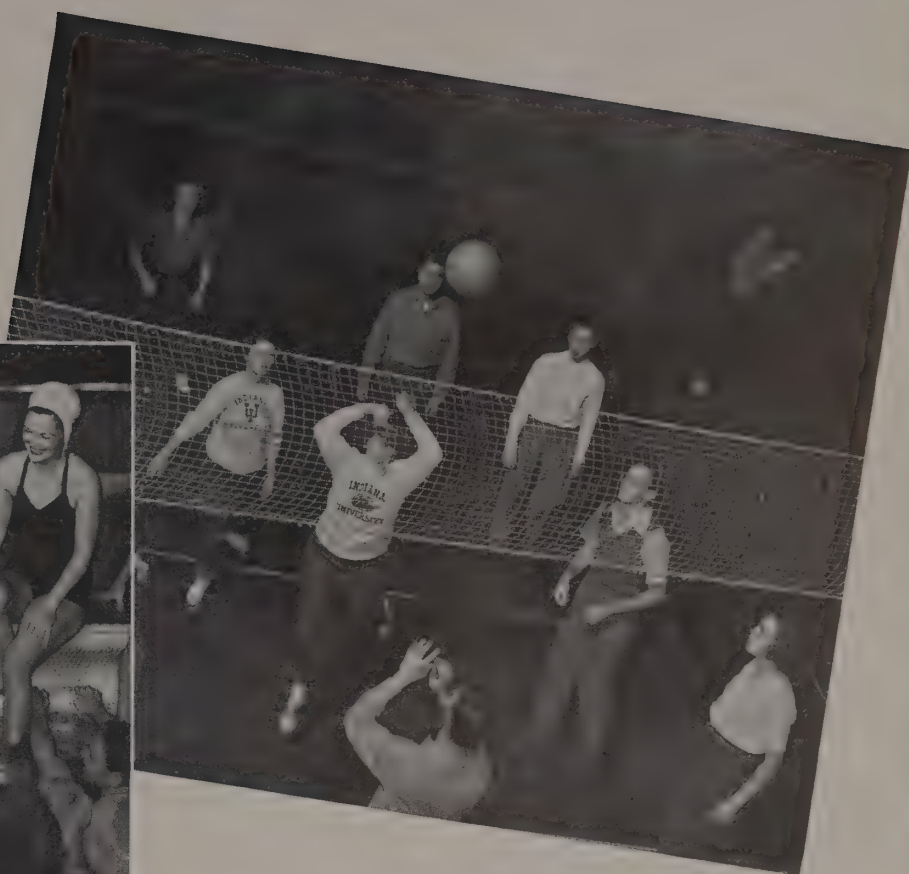

"... and the band played on."

Final week

Relaxing the mind

Bruising the body

The last drag

The final reward: Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma

And now spring wades through the campus with a sniffing nose. Tables are turned as the male ego, stimulated by a young man's fancy, suggests that the female go back to the Home Ec. Department. Between floods and galoshes, the male serenades the docile homemaker, studies nature's dandelions at picnics, and aspires to the poetry of Omar Khayyám. Social life has swollen to the proportion of seven no trump in a Commons bridge game.

They hold hands and talk of cabbage and kings.

Freshmen find a new home

The Jr. Prom Committee members fascinate each other

First day of classes

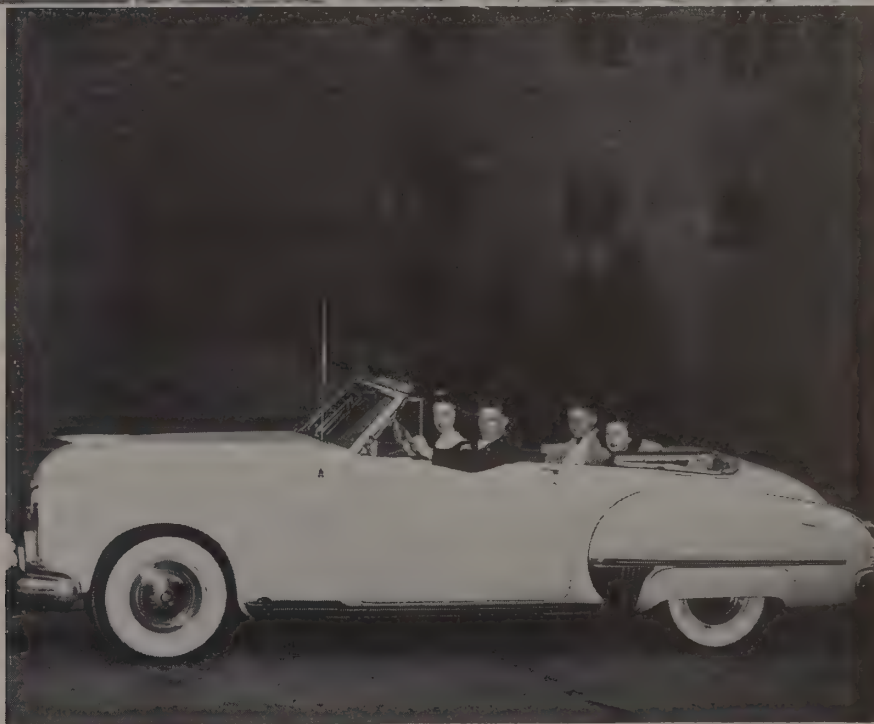

Spring brings the sniffles

Four Indiana females . . . eye their target

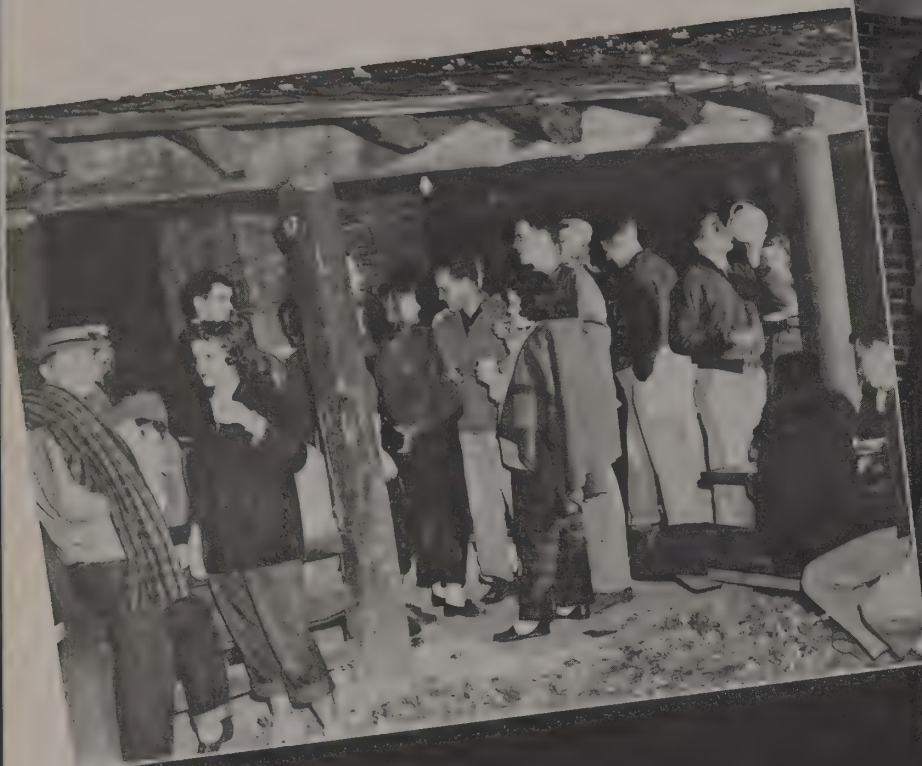

Picture of a car

Most times, they're out for fun

Picnics . . . blankets, ballads, and beer

Serenade . . . the balcony

. . . Romeos off key

Sometimes they go to classes

Where they catch up on their sleep

9:28 and nobody's worried

Two pledges CAN date on Tuesday night

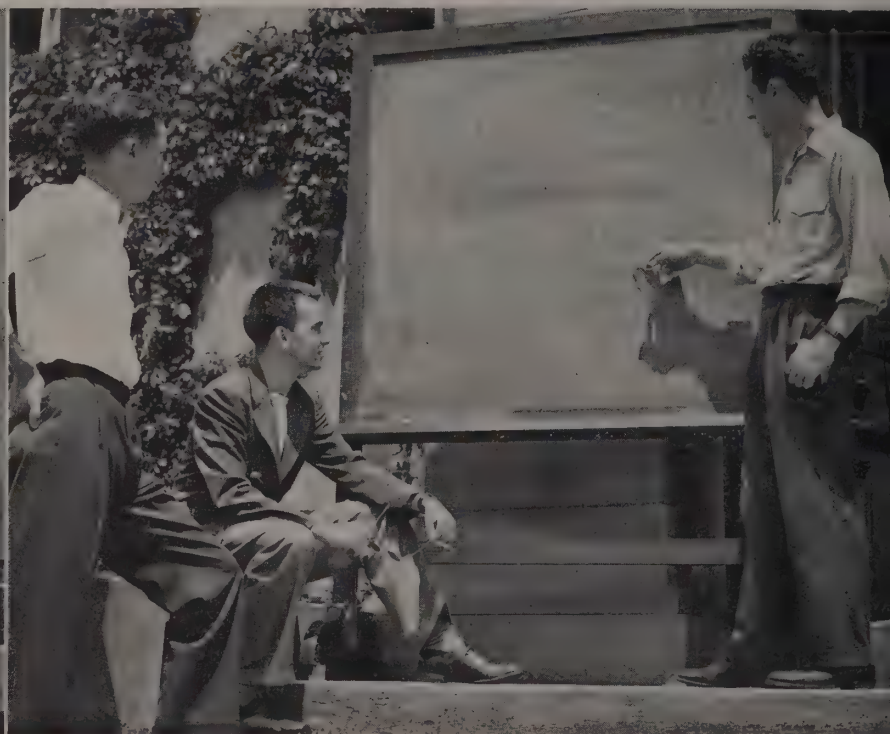

Indiana Bridge of Sighs

Maybe next year's Summer Prom Queen'll be a Mrs. too

The LAST stretch

After four years

I know where you're going

For future reference

"The moving finger writes and having writ moves on"

I won't mind the work but I'll hate the hours

Summer finally melts on the tree tops. Weathered students flash their cigarette holders with savoir faire, drink tea with an extended pinkie, and talk of getting free rides home. The summer lies in their imaginations, and their hope of getting a "job that doesn't cause too much strain." They have sipped the Martinis of maturity and wait impatiently for the next round.

Around the corner.

PHI BETA KAPPA

For over a century and a half, election to Phi Beta Kappa has been a recognition of intellectual capacities well employed, especially in the acquiring of an education in the liberal arts and sciences. Because of the remarkably high proportion of famous names on the roll of Phi Beta Kappa, admission to its ranks may reasonably be held to indicate potentialities of further distinction.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded on December 3, 1776, at William and Mary College. It was the first Greek letter society. Campus of Indiana was founded in 1911 and has a living membership of 1257. Election of students as members is held in the spring and fall. The highest ten percent of the candidates for the A.B. degree who have completed at least two full years of residence at I.U. above the freshman level are eligible for election.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

For those whose interest tends toward Bunsen burners and beakers, Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemistry fraternity, was organized. The first chapter was established at the University of Wisconsin in 1902. The I.U. chapter, Epsilon, was founded shortly thereafter in 1908. At present, forty-five collegiate and twenty-six professional chapters are scattered throughout the United States. Supplementing and strengthening the professional tie with the more intimate fraternal bond, each chapter has as its purpose the advancing of the science and profession of chemistry, as well as the aiding of its individual members in reaching their goals in that field.

Commonly known as the Axemen . . . who knows, one of us could discover something more powerful than the atomic bomb . . . it might even be Brother Bell . . .

Informally known as the Dauber's Club, Delta Tau Mu centers its activities in the new Art Building, in the heart of the campus. The club came to the campus in 1936, and recognizes students outstanding in studio art classes and recommended by members of the art staff. Pledgeship is gained only by activity points and by working for the club. The purpose of Delta Tau Mu is to create interest in art, to help members in their current art work, and to keep members informed on contemporary art by its introduction in lecture and club discussion. One of the outstanding events sponsored by the organization is the Spring Exhibit, held annually.

You don't understand Dali, well, it's like this . . . we love the new building . . . no more working at each other's elbows . . . honestly, we don't go around with palettes under our arms all the time . . . at least we won't have to look at Rushton's work any more . . .

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

"You have to learn to do it sometime; why not do it now?" is the Home Economics Club slogan. The club is primarily for majors and minors in home economics, but it has been opened to other students who are interested in the field. The objectives of the club are to promote teamwork and friendship, to develop leadership and good fellowship, to encourage creative arts and activities, and to provide social and business experience through various aspects of club life. Each year the club contributes to a departmental student loan fund, and to the college club fund of the National Foreign Fellowship Fund of the American Home Economics Association.

Indiana Union Photographic Club was founded in 1947 for the purpose of providing photographic laboratories for the students, as well as providing for proper instruction in photographic technique. It is composed of approximately fifty men and women, and is open to anyone interested. During the year, experts in the field are invited to the laboratory to lecture. In June of each year, a grand salon is held with several prizes for the winning pictures in each class.

The counterpart of the Club is Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary for press photographers. Kappa chapter is the I.U. representative of the fraternity.

RUSSIAN CLUB

One of the babies of campus organizations is the Russian Club, which was organized only last year. One of the considerations of the club this year was changing the name to the Slovak Club, in order to more fully encompass the activities it engages in during its meetings. Membership is open to anybody who is carrying or has carried the Russian or another Slovak language. The purpose of the club is to further interest in Slovak culture and study it. The main activity of the past year, besides its regular meetings, was the Slovak display put on this spring. The organization's very active sponsor was Professor Ginsburg of the Language Department.

They're a small group; they're a select group. They prove that a well-wielded pen is mightier than a sword. They are the members of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity whose charter was accepted at Indiana University in 1914. Old in years, they provide a great deal in tradition on campus. Take the Blanket Hop, oldest dance on campus, given to raise money toward purchasing "I" blankets for senior lettermen. And how about the Gridiron Banquet when the Leather Medal and Brown Derby are dusted off for presentation to the faculty members outstanding in service and popularity, respectively. And if you thought you were losing your senses upon reading the April 1 edition of the Daily Student, you might just chalk up a victory for the facile pens and tomfoolery of SDX men, in their April Fool's Day gift to the campus.

SPANISH CLUB

El Club de Espanol was organized about twenty-six years ago by Sr. Agapito Rey, who managed it for ten years. Through the years it has been the purpose of the club to create a latin atmosphere for the students of Spanish and the Spanish students on campus — a give and take relationship, so very beneficial to a closer understanding in the welding of the America's.

As the curtain rises on the University Theatre, audiences can view the talents of members of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary. The organization meets at bi-monthly dinner meetings to talk over everything from buskins to battens and to promote interest in the theatre. Aspiring young actors and actresses who have shown outstanding interest and skill in theatre work make up Theta Alpha Phi's membership. The chapter's sponsor, Dr. Lee Norvelle, is also national president of the organization.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi is an honorary professional organization for women majoring in journalism. Its purposes are to unite women engaging in journalism, to confer honor upon women journalists, to achieve definite journalistic standards, and to inspire members to greater individual effort. On campus it is known for its two large banquets each year — the Razz Banquet and the Matrix Table Banquet.

The Indiana Alpha Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma was established in 1923. The purpose of the fraternity is to encourage and reward scholarships and accomplishments in the field of business. To accomplish the aims of Beta Gamma Sigma, the founders of the organization limited membership to those who demonstrate superiority in those traits which a college education in business should develop. Membership is limited to the highest 3 per cent of the junior class and the highest 10 per cent of the graduating class.

Beta Gamma Sigma membership is entirely honorary . . . social activities . . . Spring initiation banquet . . . Wives or husbands attend initiation banquet and admire spouses . . . COLLEGIATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

With the purpose of serving as the voice of its members to the university faculty, the Collegiate Chamber of Commerce is an all-school of business organization. Guided by a board of thirteen directors and five working committees, it acts as the coordinator of the departmental clubs of the business school. Those who buy a share of stock in it are voting members and all other business students are non-voting members. At the weekly meetings, The C. C. of C. discusses the several projects which it maintains to carry out its purpose. It selects the outstanding man and woman in the school of business each week. It maintains the "Squeak Box" where student gripes are deposited, and later aired.

Alpha Kappa Psi is the oldest commerce fraternity. The chapter here at Indiana was founded in 1927 and has been an active influence on the business school since that time except for a few years during the war. The fraternity's activities and membership is international in scope and has long been a driving force in all fields of commerce. Its stated purpose is to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance; to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein; and to promote and advance in institutions of college rank courses leading to degrees in business administration.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Delta Sigma Pi was founded at New York University on November 7, 1907. The fraternity, an international business honorary fraternity, was organized to encourage scholarship in business and economics schools and to encourage association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice. Better understanding of scholastic objectives is fostered by the group through discussions with faculty and business authorities. Practical application of business school subjects is the major objective of the group.

The I. U. Insurance Club was formed to further the interests of university students in the field of insurance. Besides guest speakers, many contacts have been established between students and various companies to assist students in securing positions after they have graduated. Although the club is open to students specializing in insurance, all students who show a keen interest in this field are eligible for membership. Social activities, such as the Fall and Spring Frolics, also enter into the agenda of the club, thus making it an asset to all of its members.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

A few years ago Mr. John F. Mee, Chairman of the Management Department, suggested the formation of a Club for students majoring in the field of management. Recently the club became affiliated with a national organization, the Society for the Advancement of Management. In addition to bi-monthly meetings, when prominent speakers address the group, plans are made for tours through near-by industries, and short internships can be scheduled for students greatly interested in management problems and practices.

During 1948, the Indiana Chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management surpassed all other student chapters in the United States in membership . . . reflecting realization of the importance of informal training to supplement classroom work.

Founded in the fall of 1946, the Marketing Club of the Indiana University School of Business was organized primarily to familiarize students interested in the field of marketing with actual problems found in everyday business activities. Primary, too, was the function of forming closer contacts between faculty and students. The only qualification attendant to membership is being a student in good standing in the Business School and a Marketing major. This year's enrollment somehow surpassed last year's record roster. There was a corresponding increase in activities.

M. O. D. CLUB

Several years ago, in order to bring unity to the members of the freshman dental class, the M.O.D. club was formed. The name M.O.D. has remained somewhat of a mystery to those outside the club and has been misconstrued by many to be Men of Dentistry. M.O.D. was organized to promote a feeling of social unity among the members of the dental school, who, because of a heavy schedule, found themselves unable to participate in other campus social activities.

Fifty-four registered professional nurses pursuing advanced nursing education courses at Indiana have joined this year's Nursing Education Club. At their monthly meetings they fulfill the club's purposes which are to unite nurses in fellowship and friendship, to develop and maintain a well-balanced social, professional, and public relations program, and to promote opportunity for participation in group meetings. These purposes are also recognized in other ways, such as the Christmas party, square dance, and the Institute on the Brown report. Nursing leaders and consultants spoke at this three day conference, at which recommendations concerning nursing service and education were given.

PSI CHI

Psi Chi is a new organization on the Indiana University campus. It was founded May 9, 1947, when thirteen students met to organize the Psychology Club for the purpose of providing a medium of exchange of ideas and an opportunity to hear talks by eminent psychologists. After a very active and successful first year, the club was notified that it had been accepted as a chapter of Psi Chi. All activity meetings are open to the public, and they usually include talks by members of the Psychology or related departments, psychological movies, and reports by members on research that they have completed.

PHI EPSILON KAPPA

Phi Epsilon Kappa is a national professional honorary for outstanding men in the field of health, physical education, and recreation. The purpose of the organization is to elevate the standards, ideals, and ethics for those engaged in teaching physical education. To encourage the scholastic achievement of its members, Phi Epsilon Kappa offers a Scholarship Key Award. This award was earned by David McCooe, Paul Chappelle, and Aaron Andrews during the past year. To stimulate participation in the university's intramural program, an award is offered to the outstanding chapter member for his ability and participation in intramural sports.

Dolphin, national swimming fraternity for men, had its beginnings at the University of Illinois in 1912. The Indiana chapter, dormant during the war, was re-organized in 1946. The purposes of the organization are twofold. The first is to promote brotherhood among men of varsity swimming calibre, the second being the encouragement of men with the ability to enter intercollegiate swimming. Not only swimmers, but swimming managers and men who promote the interests of swimming on campus, go toward making up the membership.

OCEANIDES

Since 1935 the daughters of Oceanides have poised on the edge of the Student Building pool waiting for the ever familiar "Swimmers ready, take your mark, 'BANG'" to be off for an hour or so of swimming. Whether it has been for education or recreation, or both rolled into one, I. U.'s mermaids have learned all there is to know about form, speed, and sportsmanship. Girls from this organization enter yearly in the Inter-collegiate Telegraphic Swimming Meet, and there, last year, set the new Central record and tied the National 80-yard free style relay record.

The Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity came into existence in 1913 by the resolution of three smaller law fraternities to unite into a single organization. Its rapid expansion points it out as one of the most dynamic among law fraternities. Today there are 64 active student senates (chapters). The local chapter, Banta Senate, was organized in 1928. Delta Theta Phi, being a professional fraternity, regards as its prime purpose the furtherance of the legal profession, and accomplishes this by means of review and discussion.

PHI DELTA PHI

Founded at the University of Michigan in 1869, Phi Delta Phi has the honor of being the first professional fraternity in America. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote a higher standard of ethics and culture both in law schools and in the profession. In the School of Law the fraternity encourages scholarship. Each year the graduating student from law school with the highest scholastic average is given the Phi Delta Phi scholarship cup. The membership of the fraternity is composed of law students with good scholastic records.

The intercollegiate law fraternity of Sigma Delta Kappa is a national organization of lawyers and law students. It was founded on August 14, 1914, at the University of Michigan, and now has forty-five chapters in the outstanding law schools of the country. There are also eight active alumni chapters. Forced to dormancy during the war, Alpha Pi chapter of SiDeKa was reactivated in April, 1947. The fraternity's purpose is to broaden the field of legal knowledge, and at the same time to foster friendship and comradeship among the men in the legal profession. From time to time, outstanding speakers in many endeavors talk to the group on the legal aspects of their professions.

PRE-LAW CLUB

Founded on the Indiana University campus in 1948, the Pre-Law Club is playing an ever-increasing role in importance to students planning to take up the study of law. The purpose is to promote unity of organization among undergraduate students interested in law. The club offers many opportunities for its members to obtain information necessary for intelligent selection of the field of law to which they are best suited. During the present year, the club brought such outstanding speakers to the campus as Mr. Howard Caughran, United States District Attorney for Southern Indiana. Faculty members of Maxwell Hall are frequently invited over to explain various phases of law and law school to the members.

The Skeleton Club is the social organization of the freshman medical class with which each member of the class is automatically affiliated at the beginning of each school year. It provides a means of organization and contact for the medical students outside the routine of class. Questions of policy, activities of the class, and important information of interest to the students may be discussed. Activities include the following: The Med-Law football and basketball games, thereby obtaining the coveted Thundermug Trophy; the Med-Dent basketball game; the Med boress in Alumni Hall; a formal dinner followed by the Cadaver Ball, when the Meds choose and crown their Cadaver Queen; the traditional carolling at the homes of the Med school faculty.

LAMBDA NU

Students planning to enter the field of nursing are eligible for membership in Lambda Nu whose purpose is to bring about greater unity and mutual helpfulness among pre-nursing students, and to promote the highest educational and social standards of students. Outstanding function of the year was the all-day tour of the Indiana University Training School for Nurses and the hospitals of the Med Center at Indianapolis. Opportunities were provided for individual and group conferences with members of the Nursing School Faculty and students in the School of Nursing.

Mu Delta was founded during the Fall semester of 1947, with the purpose of unifying and assisting those pre-medical students of high scholastic calibre. Since its beginning, this organization has endeavored to better acquaint the student with the task which lies before him. Through an organized program of tours, lectures, and movies, that goal is being achieved.

The life of a pre-med student: orientation . . . lectures . . . Chemistry classes . . . oh, that German language . . . where's my advisor? Application for medical school . . . must study harder . . . the interview . . . but doctor, the big QUESTION? Suspense has killed me!

NU SIGMA NU

The function of this professional and social fraternity — Nu Sigma Nu — is to offer to the students who have chosen medicine as a career, a bond in recreation and instruction. Behind the men of Nu Sigma Nu lies one year of med school, and before them, the portals of resident med school in Indianapolis. The formal initiation of pledges took place in February, followed by the initiatory banquet. Throughout their freshman year, Nu Sig pledges planned discussions relative to their studies, and smokers for their active fraternity brothers. Indiana University's Beta Eta chapter was chartered in 1909, and has steadily progressed in professional scope.

Music hath enough charm for the members of Alpha Mu Omega to lead them beyond a usual class-room interest in their major. The only prerequisites for membership in this coeducational organization are enrollment in the school of music, sophomore standing, and love of music, from Bop to Bach. It is the hope of Alpha Mu Omega that these informal sessions will give them a better chance to know their instructors, to recognize the honor students with special aptitude, and to encourage the furtherance of their talents. Every spring the club sponsors a program of compositions by aspiring Indiana University composers.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

Men from the Marching Hundred are chosen for Kappa Kappa Psi on the basis of appearance, playing and marching ability, and attitude. The aim of the fraternity is to further the interests of college and university bands. The local chapter, Alpha Zeta, lists as eligibility for membership, men in their third semester of band playing at I. U. The chapter is proud of its alumni, President Wells, and Theodore Jones, the national First Vice President of Kappa Kappa Psi, among them.

A social music fraternity to honor its outstanding students, is the music school's Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. At Indiana University, Gamma Tau chapter represents this national organization, which serves its principal purpose in the advancement of music in America. This year the chapter presented a reading of music by American composers. Filling in the "important" column of the year's calendar was the 59th National Convention, held in Chicago. Various social events of the group rounded out the other activities for '48-'49.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota is an international professional fraternity for women in music. Requirements for pledging are a scholastic average of B, specialized training in some field of music, and faculty recommendation. Iota Epsilon chapter of Indiana University has been very active this year. It has sponsored outstanding musicals, given receptions for national honorary members, and acted as hostess chapter for the first Indiana SAI State Day last fall.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

"Scholarship, womanliness, and leadership," is the goal of the women of Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary for freshman women, since 1931. Membership consists of those women who have obtained a grade average of 2.5 or better for either their first semester or first year at Indiana. Officers are elected in the spring to serve through the following year, and a senior advisor is chosen from senior girls who were once Alpha Lam officers to guide the year's activities. This year the members gave a card party, Christmas initiation and party, tea for senior girls who were Alpha Lambda Delta members, a dinner with Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman scholarship tea, and monthly meetings with speakers.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma is a national scholastic honorary fraternity for freshman men who have attained an average of at least 2.5 for one semester or an accumulative 2.5 average for two semesters. At present Phi Eta Sigma has fifty-nine chapters on various campuses over the country. On our campus, Phi Eta Sigma sponsors such activities as the presentation of a cup to the men's housing unit which has the highest freshman scholastic average, preparation of "How to Study" booklets for distribution at freshman orientation, and various social functions for the members of Phi Eta Sigma.

BLUE CREST

The familiar blue crew hats and the well known blue and gold shield pins seen Wednesdays on campus belong to the twenty-eight members of the sophomore independent women's honorary, Blue Crest. Some of the activities that kept the members busy this year were a breakfast with Tophets, campus elections, decorations for the Sophomore Cotillion, a reunion with the alumnae, and joint activities with Sigma Iota. Blue Crest is also represented by a member in INDAC, the independent activities committee. The purpose is two-fold: to promote closer cooperation between the organized and unorganized students, and to encourage participation in campus activities by the independent students.

TOPHETS

Potential leadership, high scholarship, and participation in campus activities distinguish the girl who wears the green and white of Tophets. A 1.5 accumulative grade average and twenty-five activity points for her freshman year are the qualifications for membership. Tophets was established in 1945 to encourage friendly relationships among sophomore organized women and develop their leadership potentialities. Since that time, the organization has actively participated in both the social and scholastic phases of University life.

SIGMA IOTA

Sigma Iota, sophomore honorary for independent men, was organized for the purpose of recognizing students who have demonstrated the qualities of scholarship, service, and leadership. This group encourages the development of student leadership and stimulates an interest in scholarship. The organization places no restrictions on race, color, or religion in carrying out the aims of a class honorary — serving the university, "Serving Indiana." Applicants for membership in Sig I. are first screened on the basis of their merit. Sigma Iota gives independent underclassmen a foothold in the extracurricular realm of the campus.

SKULL AND CRESCENT

The Skull and Crescent is the distinguishing mark of the sophomore class honorary organizations for fraternity men. Each fall and spring, one or two men from each fraternity are selected for membership on the basis of their outstanding records in scholastic and extracurricular activities. The orange and green pod is the mark of a Skull and Crescent man. Organized in 1922, the fraternity has since that time become a national society. The purpose of the organization is to unite sophomore fraternity men for the accomplishment of campus and fraternity activities. This year, as always, Pod-Burning, the Sophomore Cotillion, and the Sadie Hawkins Day were sponsored by the group. Also members of this chapter went to DePauw to establish a new chapter there.

PERSHING RIFLES

The Indiana University Company A-3 of Pershing Rifles, National Military Honorary, has come into its own as a top-ranking campus organization this year. The annual Pershing Rifles rough initiation is becoming a looked-for campus tradition. Services performed by the unit for the University include the guarding of the Ol' Oaken Bucket (when we have it), and protecting the body of Jawn Purdue. The purpose of the Rifles is to encourage, preserve, and develop the highest ideals of the military profession; to promote American citizenship; to create a closer and more efficient relation; and to provide appropriate recognition of a high degree of military ability. The I.U. company also engages in competitive drill meets with the other colleges in the Third Regiment.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

F Company, Second Regiment of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade has regained most of its pre-war strength and is now looking forward to a bright future as an essential complement to the Military Department in turning out the best regular and reserve army. Membership is composed of a limited number of men chosen from the advanced corps of the Reserve Officers Training Corps on the basis of character and proficiency in military science and tactics. In addition to promoting the military aim of raising the standard of military training in American universities, Scabbard and Blade works on building the "gentleman" as well as the officer. This is the group that sponsors that top social event of the year, the Military Ball.

FALCON CLUB

Those men on campus wearing the black pod with the white stripe are members of Falcon Club, an honorary organization for organized junior men who are outstanding in scholarship, character, leadership in extracurricular activities, and service to Indiana University. The club's purpose is to provide a medium for better relations between the student body and the junior class, to foster a more cooperative spirit between the faculty and the student body, and to improve school spirit. They award the trophy to the outstanding I. U. football player, sponsor the rally for organized candidates for class election, and the founding this year of Indiana University's first annual "GREEK WEEK," to bring the fraternities and sororities closer together and to cement friendly relations between the organized and independent students.

BLUE KEY

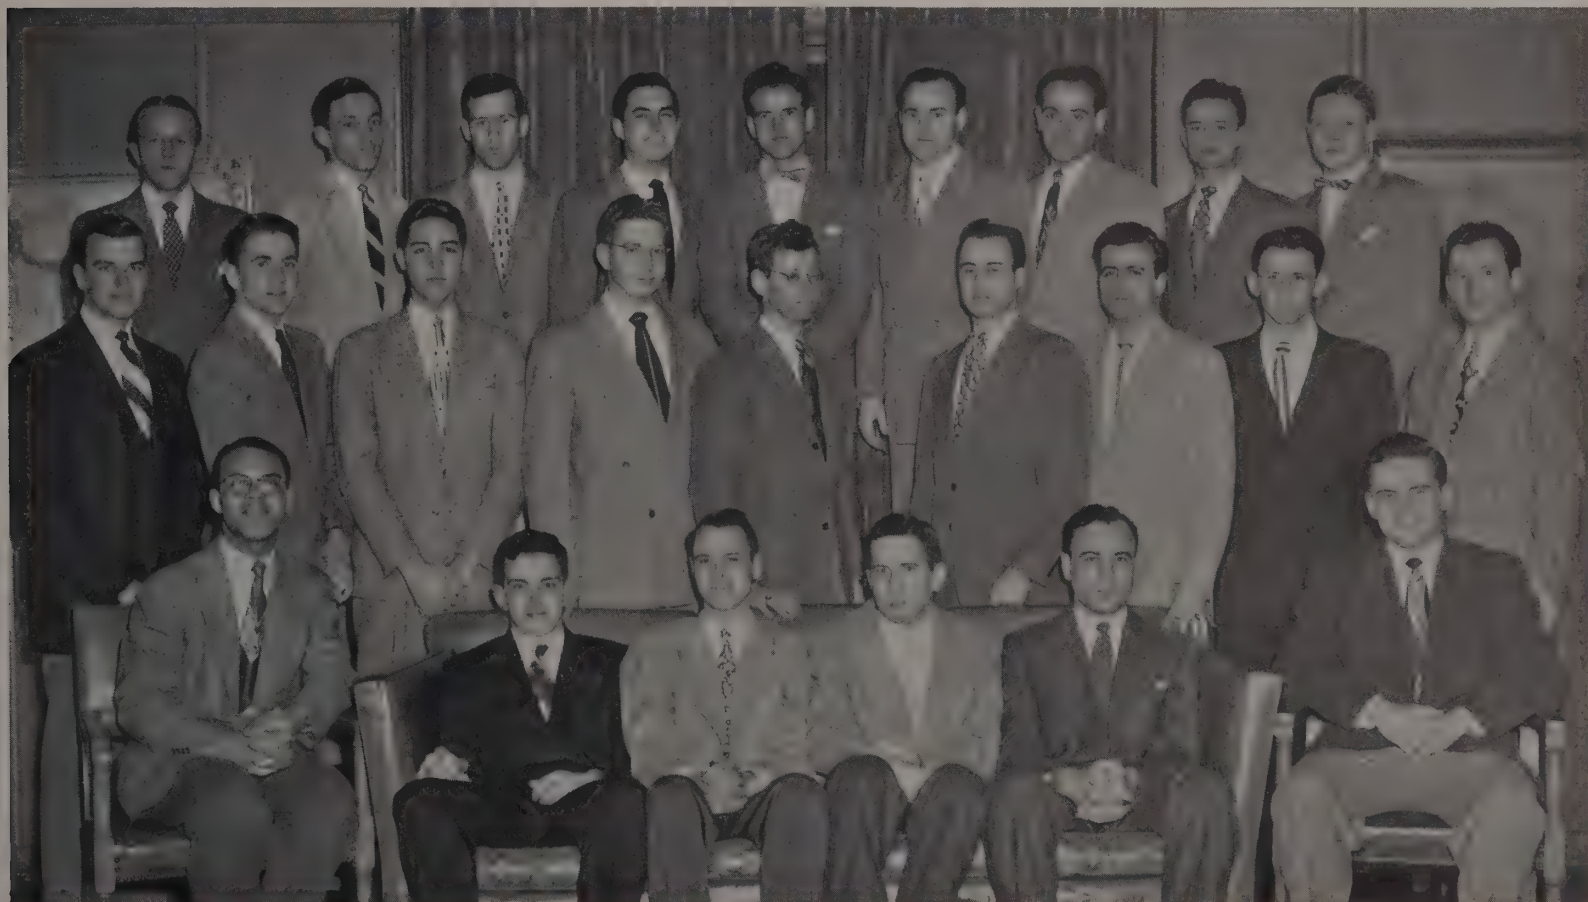

The correct and official title of "Blue Key" is "The Blue Key National Honor Fraternity." This organization is comparatively young having been nationalized in 1933. The purpose of a college Blue Key chapter is to encourage service to the students and the institution wherever a chapter might be located. In this respect, the membership is restricted to men of junior and senior class standing who have displayed outstanding leadership ability in a service capacity toward the university and its students. In spite of Blue Key's short history, it is recognized nationally as the apex of achievement in the sphere of college leaders.

How to distinguish a Blue Key man . . . blue key charm swinging from key chain. How to obtain said key . . . accumulate one hundred activity points . . . then wait for consideration. Juniors and seniors wait too, kiddies. Blue Key is truly an honor which but a few merit, and a distinction which but a few attain.

PAMARADA

If it's a white pod with a blue triangle and a white felt "P," the wearer is a member of Pamarada. This organization was founded at Indiana University as an honorary for the recognition of junior and senior independent women who are outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and extracurricular activities. Each year Pamarada sponsors the traditional Well House Waltz with Flame Club, and gives a recognition tea for outstanding independent women on campus. During the seven years since its founding, Pamarada has been instrumental in presenting the views of the Independent students. Girls are eligible for membership in their junior and senior years.

PLEIADES

Aim: To foster better fellowship among the organized women at Indiana University, to create and promote school spirit, and to stand behind higher scholarship for women. With this aim in mind, the girls of junior and senior class standing who have shown themselves to be outstanding in leadership and prominent in campus activities, meet to decide on points of vital interest to all women students. Each year the group gives two scholarships to junior women — one organized, one independent. After studying the political issues at hand, they take an active part in supervising campus elections.

FLAME CLUB

Take a Flame Club man, with his white pod with the red band; component parts — independent juniors and seniors, high scholarship, campus activities, leadership, and active citizenship in his university. He plays a vital part in campus politics, championing the cause of independent students. Flame Club is the result of a movement growing from 1938, when some independent leaders met to elect the first independent Prom Queen in the annals of Indiana University. By 1940, a new decade, a new Flame Club began to take its place alongside prominent honorary political organizations at Indiana.

SPHINX CLUB

Founded for the main purpose of stimulating and guiding interest of the fraternal organizations on campus, Sphinx stands as the ultimate honorary for fraternal men on the Indiana campus. After the stormy year of elections and selections, Sphinx men have solved the mysterious problem of getting the best cooperation from its constituents and has calmed the disturbed seas. Projects of university interest have been the subject matter for these Greek-world members.

MORTAR BOARD

Leadership, scholarship, and service to the university is the threefold purpose of Mortar Board, highest honorary for senior women. Thirteen women selected on these bases made up this year's group. The outstanding project this year was the Dames' Ball, I. U.'s annual turnabout dance where the women escort the men. Other Mortar Board events were the sophomore recognition tea, the state conference, and a dinner for alumnae. Mortar Board also prepares tutor lists for the use of the student body.

BOARD OF AEONS

By Indiana University definition, an Aeon is a member of one of the oldest and most distinguished student governing bodies on campus — the Board of Aeons. In a very real sense, he is a liaison force between the student body and the administration, ever trying to bring the two more closely together.

The Board of Aeons is limited to twelve members, each appointed by the President of the University. Every Thursday night, in their room on the second floor of the Union Building, the Aeons gather to discuss the plans and investigations which lead to the amicable solution of many student problems. In solving these problems, the Aeons work always behind the scenes, often accomplishing what more publicized groups cannot. With the passing years, appointment to the Board of Aeons has become the highest honor that can be paid to a man in student government on the I. U. campus.

A.W.S. COUNCIL

Since every coed is a member of the Association of Women Students, this organization is the largest women's organization on campus. The purpose of A.W.S. is to maintain highest standards of college life, and to bring about greater unity among the women students. To represent the interests of all the members and to guide the activities of A.W.S., is a council of twelve members. This council consists of the president, vice-president, four senior, four junior, and two sophomore members. The center of many of the activities is the east side of the Student Building, where A.W.S. maintains the lounges and meeting rooms.

BOARD OF STANDARDS

Indiana University keeps up with every move of its women students. That's a big order, but the group charged with the final responsibility for women students, feels its important responsibilities very keenly. The group of which we speak is the Board of Standards, the judiciary body of the Association of Women Students, an association which lists as its membership, the enrolled women students. This board, working in close cooperation with the administration, has been vital in setting up the regulations pertaining to all women's housing units. On their calendar of activities for the year is the formulation and regulation of the merit and limitation point system which governs extracurricular activities of all coeds.

Board of Standards under the point limitation system can no longer have 100 points per member . . . Women in our hair, that's what we've got . . . Prexy Betty McKinley is synonymous with bundle of energy . . . Late hours after dances? Sure, why not? But not this year!

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega is the national honorary service fraternity for former Boy Scouts. The fraternity as its purpose seeks to unite college men in the good fellowship of scouting, and to render service to the university and fellow men. Service projects carried out by the fraternity included helping the Student Senate in the collection at enrollment of class dues, and contributions to the Student Senate fund. Poll watchers were also furnished for the election of class officers. The local Council of the Boy Scouts received aid from members during the Community Chest drive.

CHI GAMMA IOTA

The newest honorary fraternity on the campus, Gamma Chapter of Chi Gamma Iota, has grown from a handful of twenty-five members at its founding in April, 1948, to a total of seventy-six at present. Chi Gamma Iota is an organization of veterans who have a cumulative scholastic average of 2. or more, and were admitted as the result of the fraternity's twofold objective of recognizing high scholastic attainment by veterans, and of promoting better human relations by accepting all eligible students who meet the requirements regardless of race, creed, color, or sex.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

From the four corners of the compass, come students to Indiana University. With them, they bring cultures, languages, and customs very different from those of Indiana, U. S. A. It is the proposal of the Cosmopolitan Club to further lasting friendships between these foreign students and the students from the United States. Meetings provide an outlet for the members to speak about their countries, their heritages, and to speak in their own languages. With the gradual influx of foreign students in the university, the membership of Cosmopolitan Club has mushroomed.

This club belongs to a national organization of Cosmopolitan Clubs represented in universities all over the country.

N. A. A. C. P.

The Indiana University Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has the largest membership of any student organization of its kind; four fifths of the membership are white and one fifth Negro. The broad aim of the organization is to eliminate all discrimination based on race, creed, or color, and to help procure the rights of full citizenship for all Americans. More specifically, the group is trying to improve race relationships on the campus through inter-racial and inter-cultural education and activities.

INDEPENDENT STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

One of the largest and most active groups on the campus, The Independent Student Association provides a common ground for all non-fraternity and non-sorority students. Its main purposes are to encourage independent students to participate in campus activities, and to create a feeling of friendship and loyalty to the University. The ISA operates on a representative basis — its 600 members vote for delegates to represent them on the General Council. The General Council, a representative group of forty members, meets once a week to act upon current business.

JACKSON CLUB

One of the oldest organizations on campus, The Jackson Club is now being reborn. Inactive to some extent during the war, it has recently experienced a very successful campaign. Formed for the purpose of supporting the Democratic Party, it is named in honor of one of the great founding fathers of both the Democratic Party and this Nation, Andrew Jackson. It provides the student with an outlet for political feeling and expression, and with sound, wholesome, political and social relations.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Interested in service records? Well, look to the campus unit of the American Red Cross. After only two years on campus, the group has set up an enviable service record. The plan of the Unit is to provide students with an organization through which they can help plan and administer their volunteer activities in the community, national, and international Red Cross programs. Funds for activities are provided by the National Red Cross through the Bloomington chapter.

SQUARE & COMPASS

Square and Compass, organized on the Indiana campus in 1946, boasts one of the biggest memberships in the history of Indiana University organizations. This year found its ranks bulging with 110 actives. Composed of the Masonic members on campus, its purpose is to provide a fraternal organization for these members who have lost contact with their home lodges. One of the biggest functions of Square and Compass is the organizing and training of a crack degree team which travels all over the state to give degree work. The club's meetings are held in the Bryan Room, in addition to which are staged an annual dance and banquet.

STUDENT RELIGIOUS CABINET

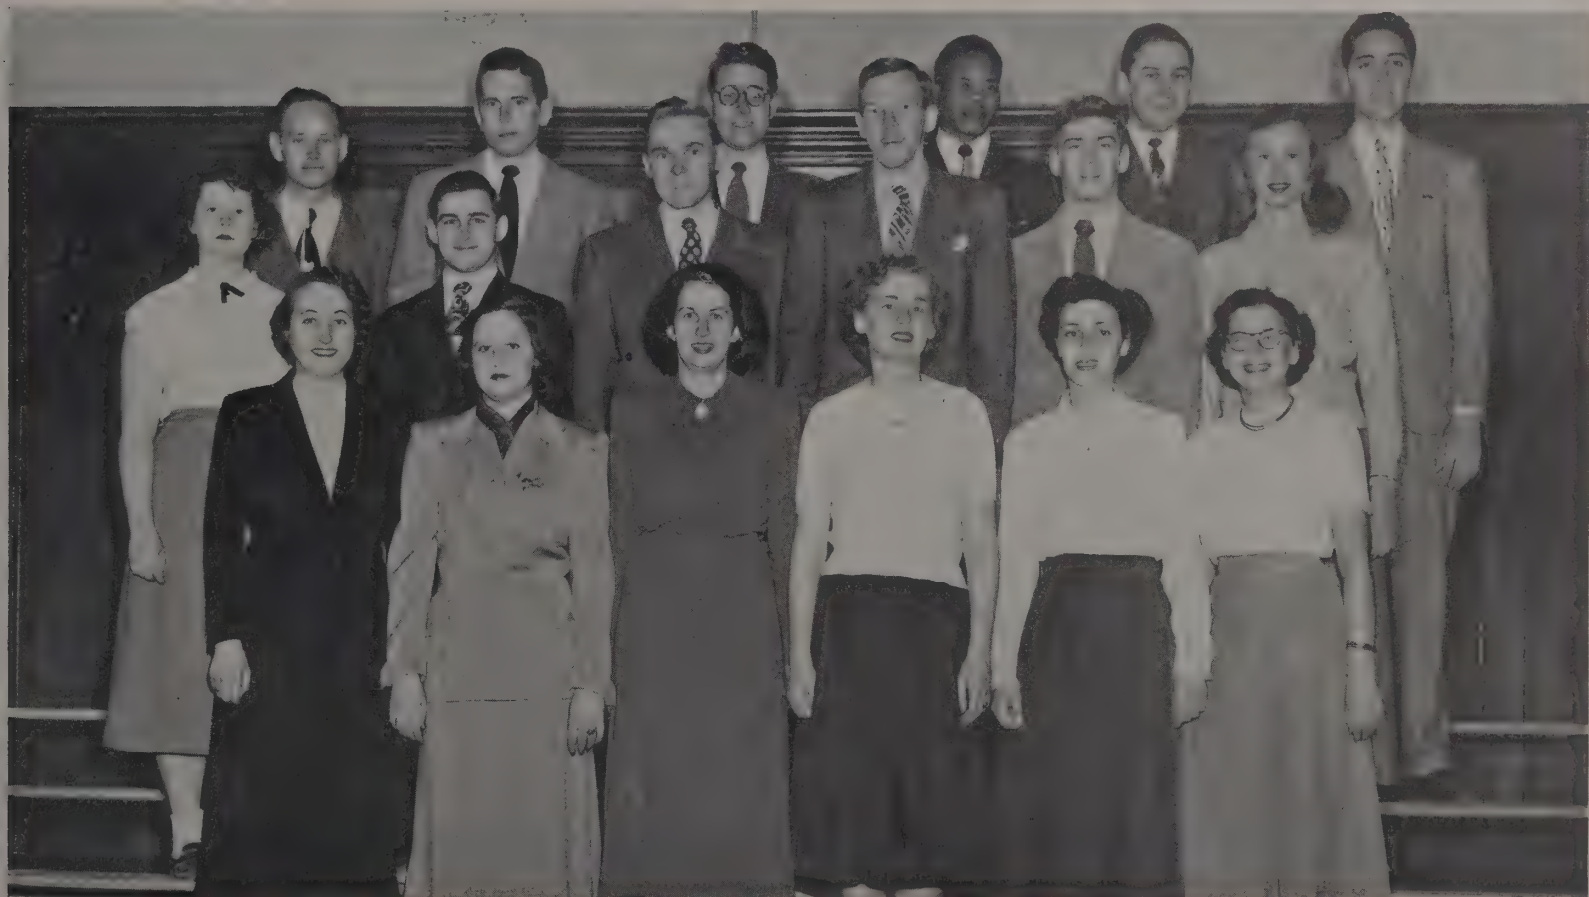

All major religious groups on the campus are accepted in the membership of the Student Religious Cabinet. Its representatives associate not as members of any particular denomination, but as students interested in the total campus program of religion. By finding a common basis of good will and action, the cabinet is able to do collectively many of the things individual groups could not do. Their solidarity helps to raise the status of religion on campus and to bring it into the everyday lives of many students. The program of the Student Religious Cabinet, in its twelfth successful year, is one of fellowship, cooperation, and group sponsorship of campus religious programs.

DELTA SIGMA THETA

Xi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta, national religious fraternity for Methodist and Methodist preference men in colleges and universities, was founded on this campus in 1937. The purpose of the fraternity is to create a more intimate Christian fellowship among men of Methodist preference; to develop effective leadership of the laity in the Church; to provide a religious training by acquainting Methodist men with the history, activities, and purposes of the church; and to promote wholesome social activities. The membership of Xi chapter of approximately eighty men is interested in the layman's work.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Organized at Indiana University in 1938, the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation is located in its own building at 730 East Third Street. Its main objective is to bring an adequate knowledge of their heritage to the Jewish college generation, to make religious and cultural values relevant to them, to deepen their sense of group identity, and to prepare them for constructive leadership in the communities to which they will return after graduation. The Foundation offers a dynamic program of religious, cultural, and social activities to students of all backgrounds. Its social activities include dances, open houses, the annual Hillel show and the Awards Banquet. The Foundation also publishes its own monthly newspaper, the HILLEL BANNER, and a literary annual, D'VORENU.

KAPPA PHI

Kappa Phi seeks to encourage Methodist women in the university today to be a leader in the church of tomorrow. Alpha Beta chapter of Kappa Phi trains members so that through work in the church, a closer fellowship and a better way of life will be fostered. The membership is open to all Methodist and Methodist preference women. Kappa Phi is a national organization composed of thirty chapters. Monthly programs carried out the theme of "Let Your Light So Shine." Included in the social program were the rush teas, the Christmas party, and the annual senior banquet.

"Once a pledge, always a pledge," groan the members-to-be as they shoulder their burdens and head toward the promised land . . . The blue, the green, the white — the pink rose of Kappa Phi — and at last, our pins! Now it's our turn! Bring on the pledges!

NEWMAN CLUB

The Indiana chapter of the Newman Club is an organization consisting of Catholic men and women and has been formed for the purpose of creating better social relations among the members themselves and with the rest of the student body on the campus. The club also serves to help its members in matters of religion and other problems which trouble so many students. All Catholic students automatically become members and are welcome to attend the meetings and activities of the club. Meetings are held twice a month, business meetings cut to a minimum, with dancing and refreshments to take their place. Along with these meetings, the Newmans keep themselves busy by sponsoring several mixers a year, picnics, and whatever else that comes to their mind.

ROGER WILLIAMS FELLOWSHIP

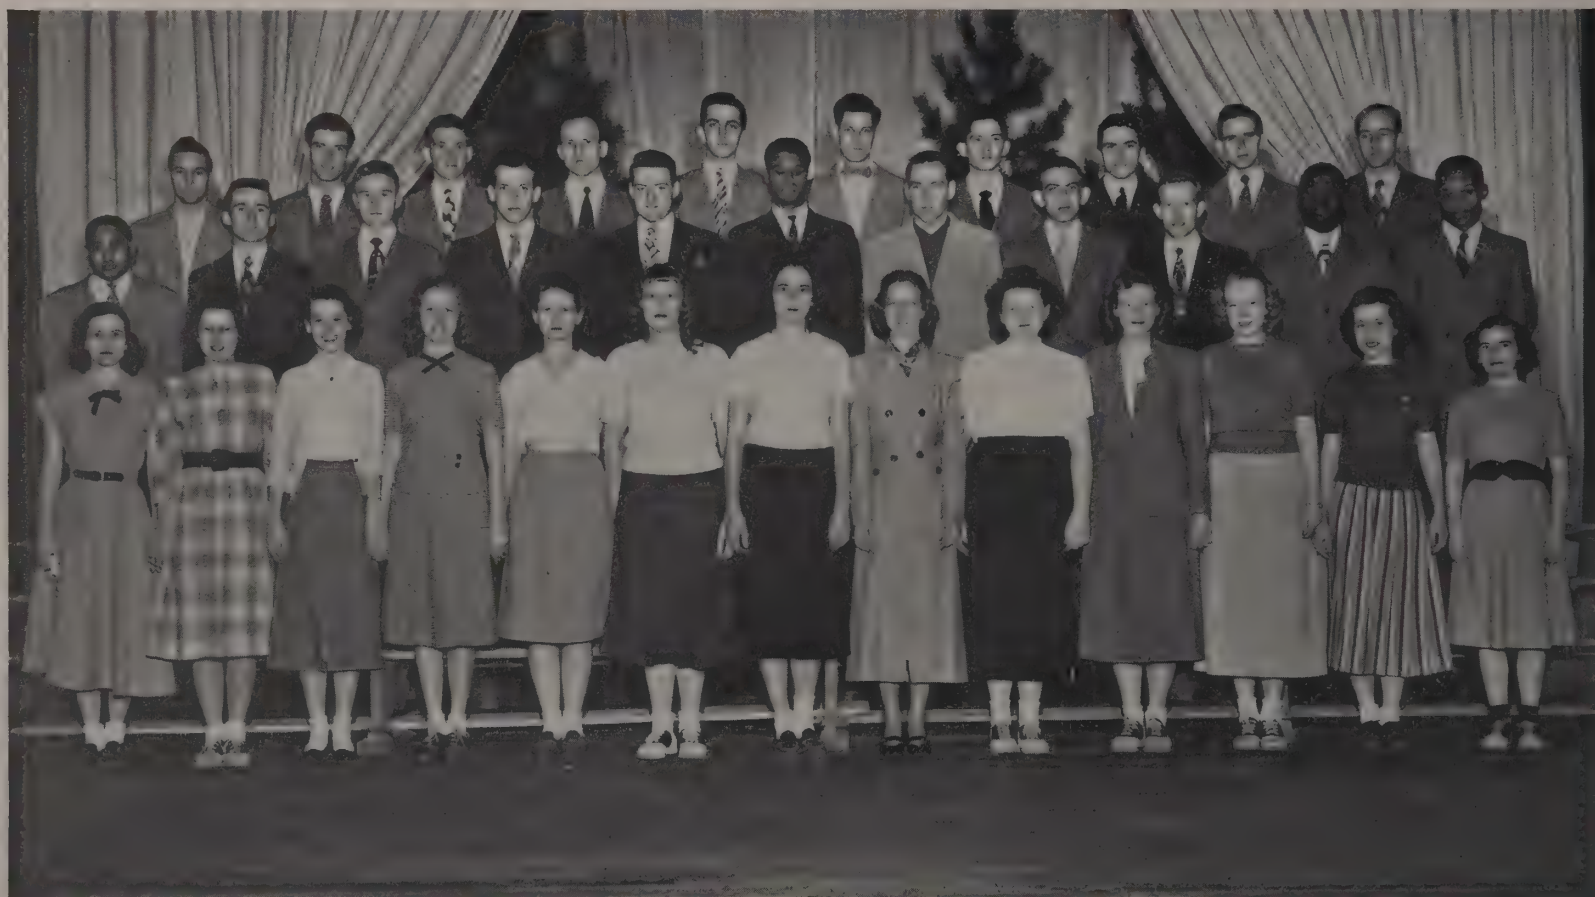

It is the purpose of the Roger Williams Fellowship at Indiana University not only to meet the challenge which the University community presents to the church, but also to train students for active and vital Christian leadership. Although the fellowship is a Baptist organization, a warm welcome is extended to students of all other religious faiths.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Established in 1920, Wesley Foundation at Indiana University is the focal point in the lives of hundreds of the three thousand Methodist and Methodist preference students on campus. Wesley's dynamic program is geared to the needs of lively, capable, and ambitious young people, for it is designed to enrich the intellectual and spiritual life of students, promote tolerance, inspire worship, and strengthen character. At 5 p.m. on Sunday evenings Wesley-ites gather in Fellowship Hall for sociable "Dine-A-Mite" suppers and plenty of entertainment. Vespers in the church sanctuary follow the suppers.

WESTMINSTER INN

Westminster Inn, located on the corner of Indiana Avenue and Kirkwood, is a favorite meeting place for Presbyterian students on the Indiana campus. For thirty-seven years it has served as a source of lasting friendships for hundreds of young people. Open every afternoon and evening, the Inn is a convenient place to forget the worries of study and RELAX. Social and religious activities both play a major part in the work of the Inn. Dances, mixes, and informal get-togethers are the lighter side of the Inn; while Bible study, discussion groups, and talks by outstanding speakers give the students a well-rounded program.

Y W C A

Under the new directorship of Carolyn Sullivan, president '47-'48, the Y. W. C. A. underwent an organizational revamping which was put into effect this year. This plan provides a place for every member of the association to serve her campus, her community, and her fellow students abroad. Under the new set-up the association is composed of an executive board of five officers elected by all the members, a cabinet which is a governing-policy group made up of the chairman of each of the seventeen committees, the council which is a subsidiary governing body of the cabinet members' assistants, the committees to which members apply and are chosen by interview and merit, the ten circle groups which meet for the purpose of friendship, understanding of the "Y" program, and devotions. The Y. W. is advised by Miss Sullivan and an advisory board of nine Bloomington women. New interest study group initiated this year was the Courtship Study Group.

UNION BOARD

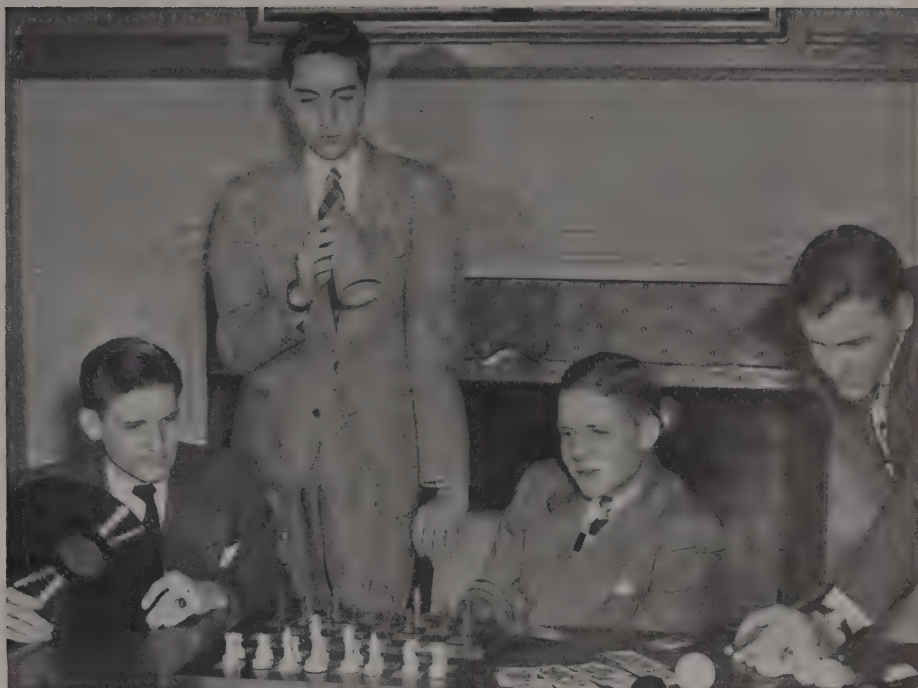

From the farsightedness of John Wittenburg in 1909, the Indiana Union has advanced steadily toward its goal of "promoting the interests of Indiana University and its students," carefully guided by its twelve-man board. The present Memorial Union building was erected in 1932, as a memorial to the University men who have given their lives in the country's wars. This has been a year of "firsts" for Union Board, the first Fall Carnival, the opening of its Night Club, "The Rhythm Room," the electronic organ, and the new cabaret piano, courtesy Union-A. W. S. dance committee. Popular concerts this year featured Stan Kenton, Vaughn Monroe, and Horace Heidt. Other activities are duplicate bridge tournaments, Photography Club, Bowling Team, Cheerleaders' Conference, Chess Club, Record Hours, and Pep Sessions.

Name it, Union Board does it . . . great minds around the big table . . . Kenton's Progressive Jazz is O. K.! . . . all this for you, the Indiana University student . . . how about that Fall Carnival? We helped to fill the Campus Chest drive with the proceeds.

BILL POWELL, PRESIDENT STUDENT BODY

STUDENT SUPREME COURT

One of the most powerful of university governing organizations is the Student Supreme Court. It corresponds to the U. S. Supreme Court in that its main function entails the judicial review of acts passed by the Student Senate. The Court is composed of nine members appointed by the President of the Student Body with the approval of the Senate. The matters with which the Court concerns itself fall into three main categories: the constitutionality of the acts of the Senate, and student-faculty relations which are taken to the court for review. The Court has the power of subpoena on both students and faculty.

Next time we have foreign student cases we'll hire an interpreter . . . "where is your home?" . . . "why, no, Val, we wouldn't kick you out of school . . . much" . . . "would you repeat that please" . . .

STUDENT SENATE

Born last year of the acute need for a strong, campus-wide student governing body, the Student Senate has come through twelve months of hard work, achievement, and growing pains. This highest of student governing bodies has brought about the installation of lights where they were long overdue on campus, the erection of signs in the Rogers-Smithwood area, the transfer of student athletic books, the abolishment of the language proficiency as a pre-requisite for graduation, and the setting up of student "Suggestion" boxes over campus. Through the passage of bills or recommendations to the administration, the Senate is carrying out its pledge to be a strong and progressive voice of the students of Indiana University.

... the activities limitation controversy ... the protest of the foreign students ... THAT Christmas party ... leaving a trail of broken gavels ... dark rimmed glasses set our pace ... put those scissors away, coed; now your student book can transfer.

ARBUTUS

And lo, the muses sang, and down from the Parnassian heights came those deities of glue, carbon paper, flash bulbs, contracts, printer's ink, razor blades, editing pencils, file cards, and indices — the staff members of the Arbutus. Laying aside the lyre and tunic, they turned their sandled feet in the direction of the goal, lying some twelve months away, and set their Grecian noses to the grindstone.

ARBUTUS

Some twelve months and 1200 headaches away, Grecian noses now no more than putty-pugs, sandled feet worn down to the ankles, classical brows wreathed in wrinkles, the deities shouldered their lyres, hoisted their threadbare tunics, turned their backs on the ruins once known as Room 312, Union Building, and stole quietly back to the celestial heights.

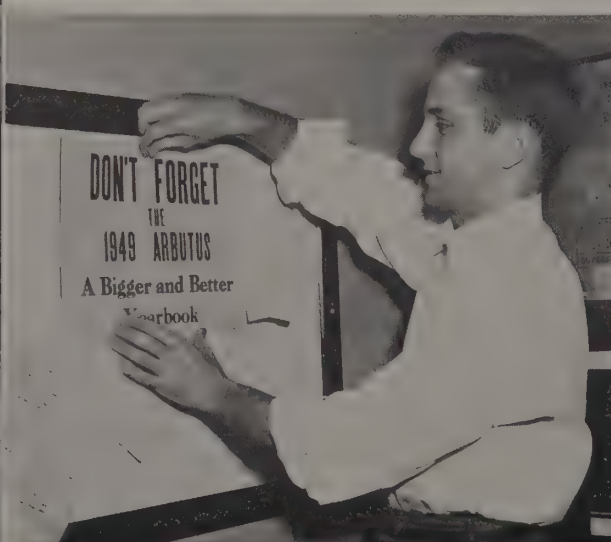

But there upon their literary thrones, comfortably relaxed in their strait jackets, they peer through the cumulus nimbus (that's rain clouds to you, peasant) over Bloomington, to judge the merits of their mind's child, the 1949 Arbutus. As you casually thumb through the pages, oh reader, be kind, for someone reads over your shoulder — it's . . .

FOLIO

The Folio is Indiana University's literary magazine, written by and for the students. It is a training ground for embryo writers, and gives them the opportunity to see their literary works in print. The magazine is made up of fiction, nonfiction, and poetry, submitted by the students of the University and occasional contributions by noncampus professionals and outstanding amateurs. In addition to affording the student body a chance to create literary works, the Folio also furnishes practical experience in the editing and management of a magazine. Students interested in professional art and illustrating may gain experience on the publication's art staff.

CRIMSON BULL

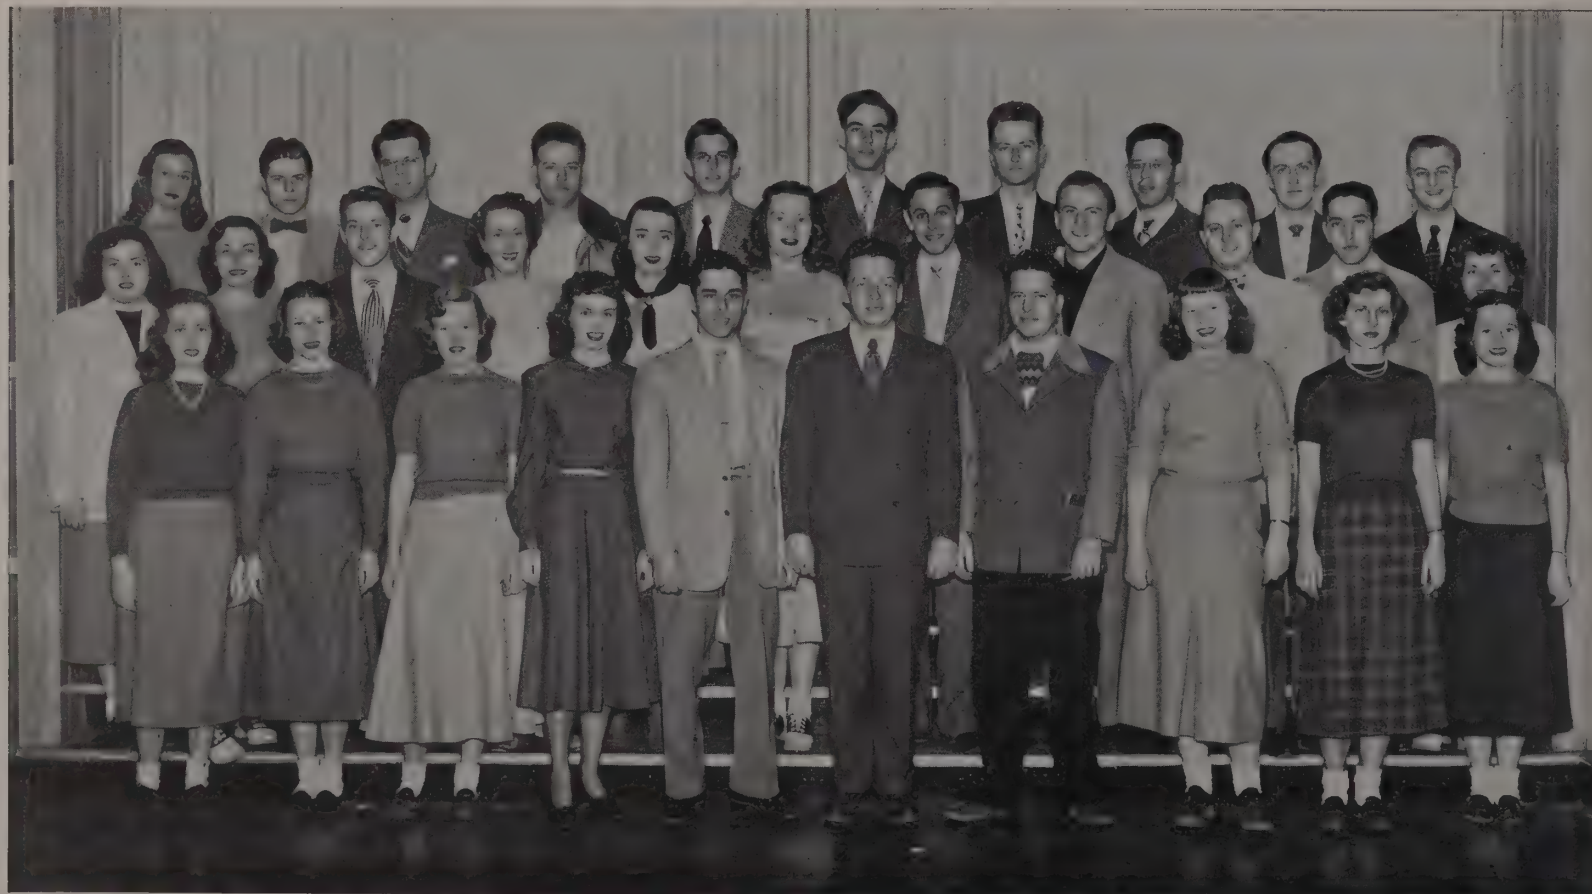

That whimsical, persistent snort that developed last year into the bellow, has subsided into a steady roar, but it's still loud enough to turn the heads of any wandering toreadors. The Crimson Bull has been established as a campus tradition in the line of publications. The Bull began its somewhat ribald activities in 1947 after an absence of twenty-five years from the campus. One of the foremost policies of the magazine is to give equal representation to both the Greek organizations and the independents. The Bull has followed in this vein by being equally eulogistic and caustic to both. This year, also, separate issues came out on these two walks of campus life.

JORDAN RIVER REVUE CAST

Who can top this? No sir, Rogers and Hammerstein's musical, Oklahoma, had nothing on I.U.'s Jordan River Revue! We had ballet dancing, the tops in music, to say nothing of the story. Remember? — it was a musical comedy centered around a band contest between two small-town bands, in the early part of the twentieth century. The original production was written by Richard Shores and Stewart Cohn and produced by Dr. Lee Norvelle. Everyone worked good and hard but granted that it was well worth the effort.

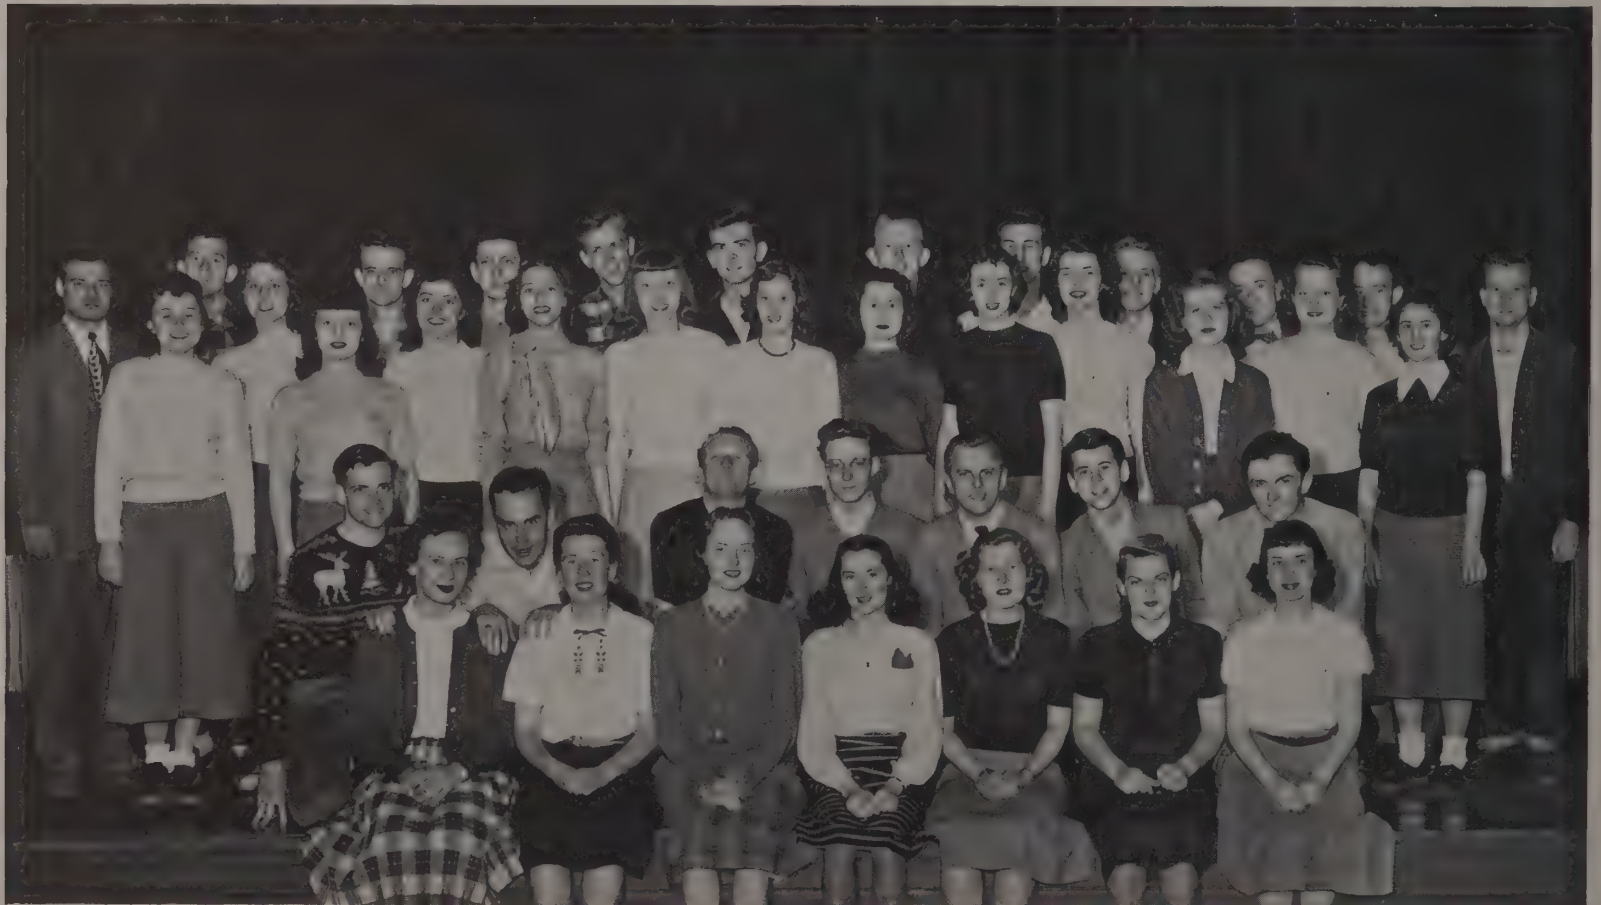

Remember the auditions . . . and, come on everybody, let's run through this again . . . rehearsals every single night . . . spotlights and grease paint . . . that dress rehearsal . . . opening night . . . and, Oh, what a wonderful party . . .

UNIVERSITY THEATER BUSINESS STAFF

To put on a play or a variety show, you have to include the men and women behind the scenes whose ever present labors keep the show out front running smoothly. For example, the University Theater Business Staff handles advertising by poster and print in town and on campus, sells advertising space on the programs, manages the ushers and ticket takers, and designs sets, all under the guidance of a capable Senior Manager, House Manager, and their assistants and committees. This staff is selected from among applicants by Dr. Lee Norvelle, and here get their training as the jacks of all trades in the theater world.

Ah, Spring . . . when our thoughts turn to what we have been thinking about all year . . . finale . . . our only assignment: FUN . . . courtesy Dr. Norvelle . . . the show must go on, and on, and on . . . we know, we spark it . . . lights down . . . ushers stumbling up the aisle . . . let us present the University Theater . . .

AUDITORIUM SERIES

From the four corners of the cultural world, once again came artists in all fields to entertain the citizenry of the Indiana University world, at the Auditorium.

First performance of the season was the Charles Wagner Company's production of Romeo and Juliet, which paved the way for this varied program: The Orchestre National of France under the direction of Charles Munch; the Brazilian soprano soloist, Bidu Sayao; Macbeth by the Margaret Webster Company; the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Fabien Sevitsky; Martha Graham's Modern Dance Company; Nathan Milstein, violinist; the Goodman Theater Players in Sound of Hunting; New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Bruno Walter conducting.

You'll remember the two "Annies" who stole your hearts and evoked your chuckles on the Auditorium stage this year — Ado "I Cain't Say No" Annie of Oklahoma, and "Beat's Hell, don't it" Annie of Annie Get Your Gun. Maurice Evans scored a hit and definitely proved his versatility in G. B. Shaw's Man and Superman.

The Metropolitan Opera Company sent two of its all-time favorites, Carmen and Lucia Di Lammermoor with two of its most glamorous leading stars, Rise Stevens and Patrice Munsel. When the house lights went up after the season's last performance, the audience's applause bespoke their praise of a job well done.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA AND CONCERT BAND

UNIVERSITY SINGERS AND CHANCEL CHOIR

MEN'S CONCERT CHOIR

The Indiana University Men's Concert Choir is a group of forty men selected from the entire student body for their vocal accomplishments. Its aim, aside from the pleasure of participation, is to arouse interest and enthusiasm in others for choral activities. The choir presents concerts in Bloomington, and in various parts of the state throughout the year. Many of the selections used are arranged especially for the group by the director, Professor George F. Krueger, or by its own members. The alto soloist with the Concert Choir is Miss Mary Alice Hensley.

MARCHING HUNDRED

Qualified men from the bands are selected for the "Marching Hundred" — the 120-piece football band. The band is noted for its precision marching and unique formations. The men rehearse daily for an hour and 45 minutes. Over 1000 man hours are spent per week preparing the shows presented for the football fans, not including the preparatory work of the Directors and staff. The "Marching Hundred" makes two trips each season for important conference games.

THE FIGHTIN' HOOSIERS

Under the wing of Coach Clyde Smith, who inherited one of the toughest football schedules in the country, Indiana University's gridders played a rugged nine-game schedule, winning two and dropping seven. They pulled the upset of the nation in their opening game, when "Smitty's" poor little boys swamped Wisconsin, 35-7. The Hoosiers took advantage of every break, with George Taliaferro, triple-threat halfback tallying a trio of touchdowns. In their second win and what proved to be their last victory of the campaign, they throttled Iowa's Hawkeyes, 7-0. They threw a scare into Texas Christian before bowing, 7-6, in their third outing.

Defeats by Minnesota, 34-7, Pittsburgh, 21-14, Ohio State, 19-0, Notre Dame, 42-0, and Michigan, 54-0 followed, before the Hoosiers were beaten by Purdue, 39-0, in the finale of the season and the battle for the Old Oaken Bucket.

Eight seniors will not be back next year, and one player was lost to the pros. The seniors were Captain John Goldsberry, Franke Hoppe, John McDonnell, Harry "Chick" Jagade, Pat Kane, Francis Carter, George Karstens, and Del Russell. George Taliaferro, a junior, was signed by Los Angeles at the end of the year.

Things looked great for the Hoosier basketball team, that had but one senior, when they captured their first seven games by downing DePauw, Drake, Michigan State, Xavier of Cincinnati, Kansas State, Marquette, and Washington of St. Louis. Things continued to be great the remainder of the season for one of Branch McCracken's typical fighting ball clubs. Butler handed the "Merry Macs" their first defeat in the Hoosier Classic, but they came back to defeat Notre Dame before stepping into Big Nine action against Illinois.

The Illini beat the Hoosiers, 44-42, in a thrilling double overtime, but I.U. bounced back with a win over Iowa. Wisconsin's badgers handed the Hoosiers a ten point reverse, but sweet retaliation followed when the Crimson crew spanked Purdue, 56-42, to regain possession of the Fire Bell. Successive Big Nine losses to Minnesota, Michigan, and Ohio State followed along with a one-point loss to DePaul of Chicago. But a rejuvenated McCracken basketball team came back to chalk up three straight conference wins over Northwestern, Purdue, and Ohio State.

Don "Tex" Ritter, stellar Indiana forward, was the only boy lost by graduation, and McCracken will have such men as Jerry Stuteville, Lou Watson, Tom Schwartz, Charlie Meyer, Bob Lollar, and Bob Armstrong, juniors; Bill Garrett, Gene Ring, Bill Tosheff, Phil Buck, Bob Lukemeyer, Tyrie Robbins, Ted Kaufman, and Gordon Neff, sophomores, to choose from next year. Garrett, Watson, Ring, Stuteville, and Tosheff were the sparkplugs during the 1948-49 season, with Robbins and Buck showing signs of becoming future I.U. net stars.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

A bigger and better Intramural Program, set up by Dean Wakefield and Zackary Cornea, held the interest of virtually every man on campus. With the final number of participants higher even than last year's record breaking figures, the Intramural staff worked overtime setting up schedules and recording points. Remembering the dispensary's protests over last year's bone-breaking I.M. football, the staff set up new rules for the season. Although the broken bones were less in number, the percentage of bloody noses, sprained ankles, and black eyes increased in direct proportion to the greater number of players.

Once more the fact was brought out that although every man on campus wasn't able to play on varsity teams most of them wanted to enjoy some good competitive sport. Intramurals were the answer to this need for letting off a little excess steam. Men in every housing unit on campus wanted that Intramural trophy so badly that they were willing to play any time, any place, anywhere to earn it. The Phi Gams looked like sure winners as the season came to a close. But the competition was still plenty rough. All in all, it was a great year for Intramural Sports.

PANHELLENIC ASSOCIATION

Panhellenic Association, governing body for organized women, has had once again, in traditional form, a successful year. Starting in the fall with a mass meeting for freshman women, things ran very smoothly straight through to the Officers' Workshop, which was Panhellenic's direct contribution to Greek Week. The Officers' Workshop was originated this year to give new officers in sororities the opportunity to gain experience and knowledge from their respective counterparts in other houses. While all the presidents met together in one house, other officers were meeting in sorority houses all over campus. The two days of workshop were fittingly climaxed with a speaker nationally known in the sorority world. The mid-year program was again kept busy with rushing activities which Panhellenic supervised.

Yes, 1948-1949 Panhellenic has many memories to look back upon . . . social organization or governing body? . . . tea or cokes? . . . Pin Magazine . . . Greek Week . . . Officers' Workshop . . . Theta Phi Alpha . . . deferred rush or fall rush? . . . Bewildered rushees! Bewildered Greeks!

Dotti Friedland, Treasurer; Ginny Lukemeyer, Corresponding Secretary; Jackie Oakes, Vice-President; Ruth Stimson, Student Advisor; Jacky Sterner, President; Ginny Jenner, Recording Secretary.

JUNIOR PANHELLINIC ASSOCIATION

In 1946, the Inter-Sorority Pledge Council became the Women's Junior Panhellenic Association. The purpose of the organization is to improve relationships between sorority pledges, and to cooperate with Panhellenic Association in its effort to maintain high social and scholastic standards.

It is composed of a representative from each national sorority on campus, preferably the President of the Pledge Class.

Memories . . . Order, order . . . heavy business . . . Inter-Sorority Pledge picnic . . . Good jokes (?) . . . new friendships . . . cokes and potato chips . . . campus pledge walk-out . . . that long walk home . . . Initiation hopes . . . Pledge troubles . . . p-l-e-a-s-e pay those fines . . . Scholarship Cup . . . potential rodesses . . . Good-bye, new initiates, it's been fun!

WRH GOVERNING BOARD

"Get those girls out of our hair" is the distracted moan which sometimes bursts from the presidents of the Women's Residence Halls. These thirteen girls make up the Women's Residence Halls Executive Board. Their most important activity consists of discussing problems that are of immediate importance to the girls in the halls. This year the Board entertained several guest speakers at their meetings who discussed Parliamentary procedure and campus organizations. Also, a member from each of the co-ordinate groups reported to the Board of the activities of her housing unit. The Board sees that the girls in the halls get correct information concerning all phases of campus life.

The Townettes, the NEW organization for all independent women living out in town, gives the out-in-town woman an opportunity to feel she is part of Indiana University and to enjoy its social life along with her studies. Informal events represent the core of our program; dessert parties, coke dances, bridge, dinners, and intramural sports. Council meetings are held every other week and are open to all members.

"Hi, kids, sorry I'm late, I just ran into . . . you did? . . . Well, I guess we'd better get the meeting started — the Meeting will come to order . . . You want pods like the fellows? Then bring it up under new business, we'll have the minutes . . . Do you know who I saw . . . order!! . . . Oh, well, meeting adjourned, now what did you say? . . . Commons? Sure, be right with you."

FRONT ROW: Mary Murnan, Carol May, Esther Marlin, Kathleen Terrell, Gwen Eads, Lois Hurt, Nancy Stewart, Barbara Bonahoom, Dorothy Moore.

surely those aren't all your souvenirs ...

... yeah you ... ain't we purty? ... careful now ...
 didn't know they layed pumpkins too ...
 ... oh Mr. Interlocutor ... mid-night snack ... present for Mother ... may I cut in ... don't forget the shoe
 ... wish we got mail ... must be interesting ...

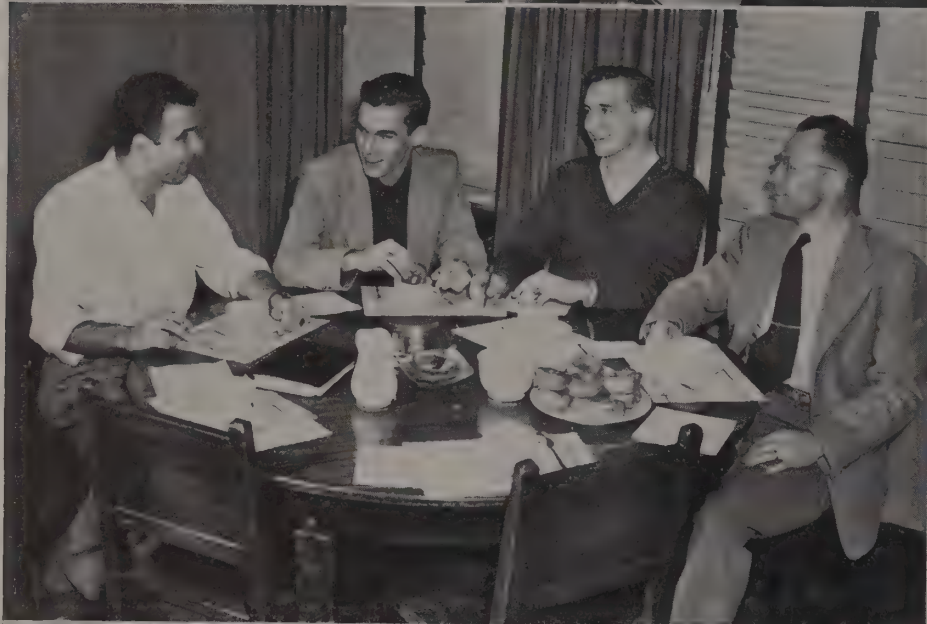

just ceased to be a boy . . . "

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Intrafraternity Council is composed of the president of each of the national fraternities on the Indiana University campus.

This year, one of the biggest of the Council's activities pertained to scholarship. The committee on scholarship worked to improve study habits in the individual houses, raise scholastic standards for pledging, provide personal instruction for below average students, and improve scholarship in all of the fraternities. The I. F. C. Scholarship Cup was presented to the house with the highest all year average.

The Council's main social activity this year was backing the Indiana University Greek Week which helped create better relations between the fraternities, the University, and the student body.

IFC PLEDGE COUNCIL

"One, two, three, . . . Burn the pods" was the cry heard all over campus one night last November. The job of figuring out when to burn those hated green pods and to gain revenge on the "over-bearing" sophomores belongs to the Interfraternity Pledge Council. The Council is made up of the presidents of the pledge classes of the national fraternities on campus.

The main purpose of the Council is the furthering of relations between the individual pledge classes. This is accomplished by smokers among themselves, and tea dances with the pledge classes of the campus sororities. This year one of the biggest items on their agenda was the sponsoring of the name-band Greek Week dance.

MRCA EXECUTIVE BOARD

The "Ten Young Men of M. R. C. A." are the leaders who guide the over-all policy of student government for the three thousand men who live in Indiana University's Halls of Residence. Officially, these young leaders compose the Men's Residence Center Association Executive Board. Nine of the members hold their position because they serve as president, vice-president, or secretary of the Rogers I, Rogers II, or M.R.C. Boards of Governors. The tenth member is the president of the Executive Board and an ex-officio member of all three Boards of Governors. S. G. Savage headmaster of M.R.C.A., sits with the group as advisor.

It is the job of the Executive Board to coordinate the plans of the three housing centers. In doing this, the Board publishes The Corridor, which has been acclaimed one of the finest college dormitory newspapers in the nation.

MRC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The Men's Residence Center Board of Governors is composed of individual governors of North, South, West, and Hoosier Halls, and the governor of Dillion House. Since the pride and joy of the Board is the achievements of the halls, its interest is centered in the activities of these units. This year the men of MRC had top honors in both extra-curricular and scholastic work, besides maintaining the worthy traditions which they cherish. Their leisure hours were spent in the usual way; playing football on third floor of South Hall, campaigning, snowball fighting with the Thetas, and just boressing. The thirteen governors strive to uphold past records and establish new and constructive goals to provide the residents every opportunity for a happy and profitable year.

ROGERS I BOARD OF GOVERNORS

"Great Lakes, Hell, this is Rogers," the winning homecoming decoration of two years ago, no longer applies, and being so, the Rogers I Board of Governors has had a somewhat easier time managing its members. With the finishing of the luxurious lounges, and completion of the roads and walks, it no longer resembles that historical naval edifice. The construction of these, and of numerous recreational facilities have helped greatly in providing the men places to spend their time.

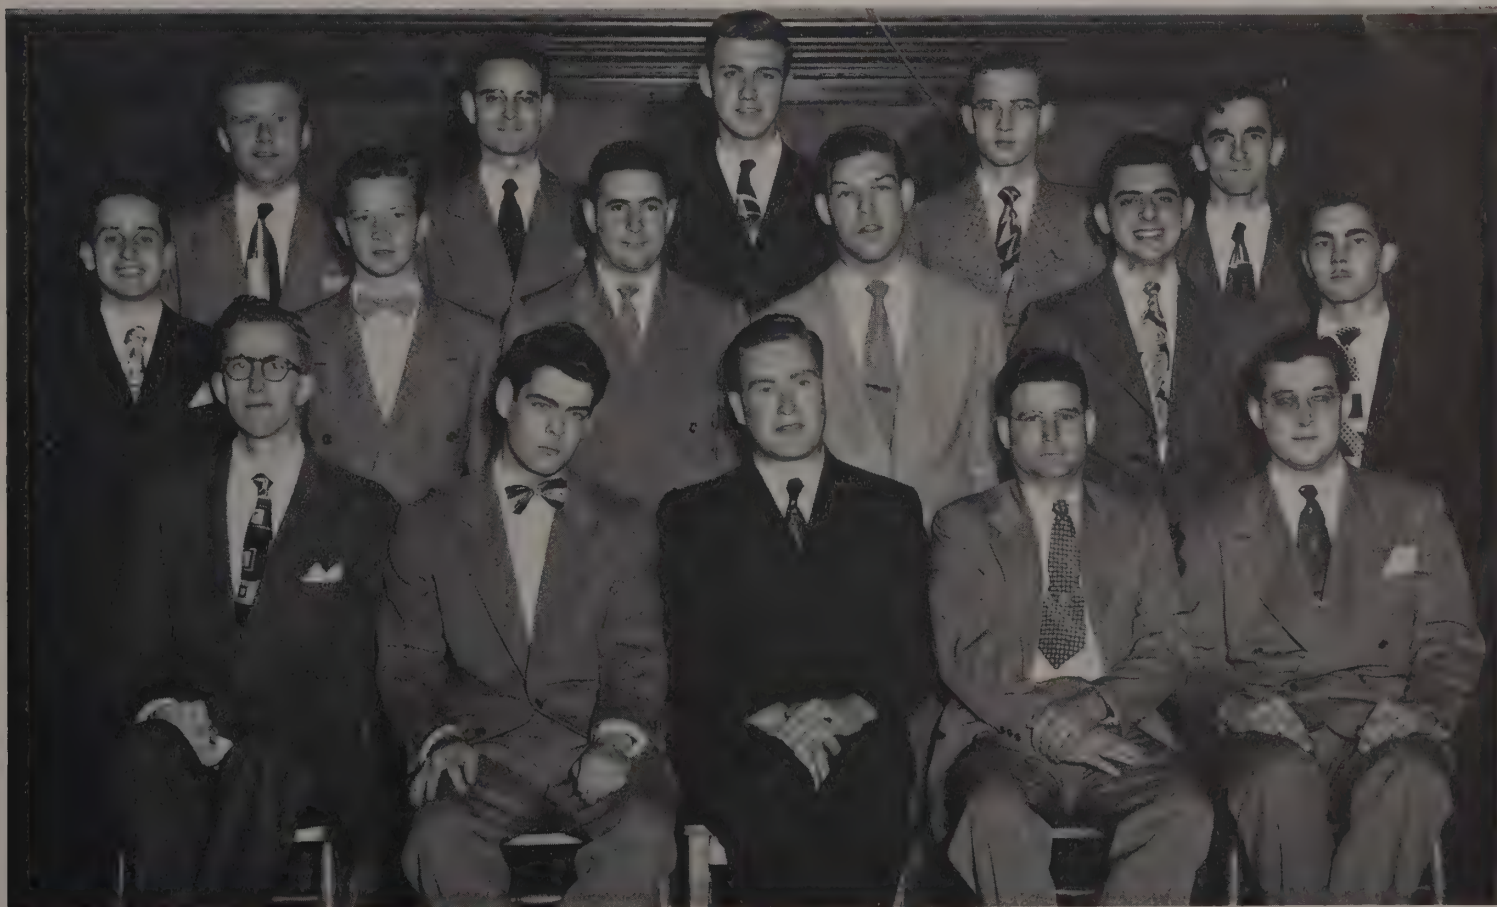

The Board of Governors is composed of the governors of Halls A through L. Its job is coordinating the halls and looking after the interests of the men in them. One of the biggest strides forward was taken this year with the institution of a proctor system to maintain hours. This and other problems have been effectively solved by the Board.

ROGERS II BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Tabbed "the lucky boys" by the members of another nearby group of Rogers men, the men of Rogers II are solidly entrenched in their brand new dorms with telephones in every room. This convenience along with their glassed-in lounges and the best looking chow hall on campus all go toward making the nick-name a good one. Another claim to fame held by the members of Rogers II is that they have more cars per man than any other housing unit on campus.

Their Board of Governors is responsible for, as is their comparable board in Rogers I, the welfare of the men in it. Composed of the individual governors of Halls M through W, plus Hickory Hall, this Board has also put a proctor system into effect in an effort to improve scholastic averages. This Board and the other governing boards on campus aptly demonstrate the ability of the men to govern themselves.

NOT SHOWN: Robert Fleischman, Charles Hamer.

Alpha Omega fraternity was founded in 1909, when Ramach fraternity at Philadelphia College of Dental Surgery and Alpha Omega fraternity at Baltimore College of Dental Surgery joined forces. The object of this merger was to aid the student in his professional background, and to bring the student into a closer relationship with his fellow students.

In the year 1928, Alpha Gamma chapter, at the Indiana University School of Dentistry, was organized. To celebrate its twentieth year at I. U., Alpha Gamma held a banquet at the Warren Hotel.

The entire group is active in keeping up the high standards of the chapter's yearly program. This program continues to be made up of special lectures, clinics, parties, and monthly dinner meetings. Speakers and guests are distinguished men and women from within and without the profession. The annual "Senior Farewell" banquet and ball highlights the year.

XI PSI PHI

Xi Psi Phi Fraternity began its existence as the first Dental fraternity at Indiana Dental College with the installation of Theta Chapter in 1893. It was the second dental fraternity to be organized nationally and now has twenty-five chapters in leading universities in the United States and Canada.

The fraternity was organized for the purpose of providing a more substantial foundation upon which to build a successful professional life, of creating a desire for a cleaner, healthier, and more wholesome atmosphere in which to live, and of developing an appreciation of the qualities of friendship and hospitality.

The Deputy Supreme President serves in the capacity of counselor and faculty representative. His interest and devotion of time and effort to his younger fraternity brothers is greatly appreciated by the members of Theta Chapter.

PSI OMEGA

SECOND ROW: Ken Mosely, Hank Weber, Earl Harrison, Dan Strapon, Frank Harper, Paul Havlick.

Psi Omega, now the largest dental fraternity in the world, was founded in the year 1892 at Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Since that time it has grown continually until it now boasts thirty-three chapters, some of them abroad. Psi Omega has as its main purpose the providing of a well-rounded social background for its members. The chapter house provides the men with some well earned recreation. The second important function of the fraternity is aiding the men in their professional background.

Among the most important events of Psi Omega are the regular alumni meetings held in the new chapter house on West Michigan. These meetings offer the men an opportunity to meet prominent people in the field of dentistry, and to learn modern techniques from them. The new house, purchased by the Omega Association, has put Psi Omega on the "sunny side of the street."

PHI BETA PI

Phi Beta Pi, one of the leaders among the national medical fraternities, was founded in 1901 at West Pennsylvania Medical College. In 1905 the Omicron Alpha Zeta chapter was established at Indiana University. Encouragement of scholarship, high standards of ethics, and advancement of the medical sciences are its basic aims. Thirty-nine chapters in leading medical schools comprise the national fraternity.

Membership is limited to medical students who meet certain scholastic and social requirements. The active chapter in Indianapolis and the pledge chapter in Bloomington keep high scholastic standards and promote a program both social and educational. Social events include the Christmas dinner-dance and the spring initiation banquet and dance. Also a number of stag parties, lectures and movies of medical interest are given. The Frank C. Mann Lectureship, which is sponsored annually by Phi Beta Pi, is one of the outstanding events on the Indianapolis campus.

The first chapter of the Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan in 1882. Since then the fraternity has expanded until it is now composed of forty-one chapters which are scattered throughout the country. The Beta Eta chapter of Nu Sigma Nu was established on the I. U. campus in 1908.

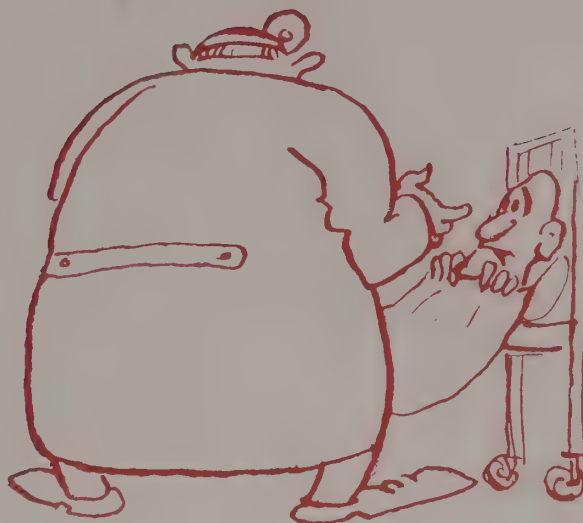

The purposes of the fraternity are both professional and social. The organization's agenda includes frequent business meetings, social events, dinners, and occasionally, locally prominent medical speakers. The important events of the year are the initiation of the freshman pledge class, which is followed by a banquet and dance, the alumni dance, and the spring party.

Many of the alumni of Nu Sigma Nu are notable men in medicine, and many have positions on the faculties of medical schools throughout the country.

PHI CHI

The National Fraternity, Phi Chi, had its origin in the Medical College of Vermont in 1889. A Phi Chi medical fraternity was organized in Louisville, Ky., in 1894, independently of the Vermont chapter. For some years the two remained as separate fraternities and were known as the Northern and Southern branches respectively. On February 26, 1897, a grand convention of both branches led to their consolidation and February 26 was selected as the official Founders' Day. Phi Chi has grown until at present there are 70 chapters with a membership of over 22,000. Mu chapter of Indiana was established in 1903 and since its beginning has initiated 372 members.

The purpose of Phi Chi is the promotion of an agreeable fellowship among those whose primary interest is medicine; a fellowship that by its good will and cooperative activities helps its members achieve their best as individuals and as a group to become a source of strength and pride to their Alma Mater.

Phi Rho Sigma Medical Fraternity was founded October 31, 1890, at Chicago Medical College. Pi Chapter was founded in 1903 at Indiana University. This fraternity is represented on nearly every medical school campus in the United States, and also on some Canadian campuses. Its purposes are to promote good fellowship among congenial men of medical schools and colleges, to encourage a high standard of professional work, and to assist by every honorable means the advancement of its members.

Our activities during the year include annual banquet-dances, professional meetings, and social gatherings at the homes of alumni. Among our outstanding alumni are these officers of the American Medical Association: Dr. R. L. Sensenich, President; Dr. F. F. Borzell, Speaker of the House of Delegates; and Dr. George F. Lull, Secretary and General Manager.

ALPHA DELTA THETA

Alpha Delta Theta, the national professional sorority of Medical Technology was established on February 1, 1944, by Tau Sigma of Marquette University and Alpha Delta Tau of the University of Minnesota. It is a relatively new sorority with definite objectives. The organization aims to unite women preparing for and engaging in Medical Technology and to achieve definite standards in this field, to raise the prestige of the Medical technologists on the campus, and to inspire members to greater individual efforts.

Eta chapter of Alpha Delta Theta was established on the Indiana University Medical Center campus in April, 1948. With a view toward achievement in all walks of life, the sorority strives with the national organization for world advancement.

Memorable social events are the informal parties, open houses, pledge and initiation services.

IN APPRECIATION

Ralph M. Cronin of the KELLER-CRESCENT COMPANY for teaching us how to edit an ARBUTUS

Elaine Dudley for learning to read our hieroglyphics

Ed Fortner of the Wm. H. Block Company for 2146 senior pictures

H. F. Beckett of the Kingsport Press for showing us how to design a cover

Earl Hoff for his encouragement and labors over our copy

Eva Skirvin for keeping the pictures coming

C. M. Flaten for high quality photography at all hours

Personnel of the Union Building for not throwing us out

Board of Publications for their faith and preparation for the worst

The hundreds of staff members, students, and faculty members whose cooperation has made the publication of the 1949 ARBUTUS possible

"We are deeply grateful to you and say thanks a million."
